LET THE GRIPES BE HEARD

Time and time again we hear complaints about city government, general conditions in Daly City, and articles in The Record. Some of these gripes are justified, others are based on lack of information, and still others are outlandish. Nevertheless, as a necessary cog of the democracy, the "gripe" is as important as the vote. Silence the objectors and democracy will decay for lack of agitation and stimuli.

Evidently peculiar to Daly City is that few, if any of these gripes ever get further than the tongue and receptive ears on the streets. More can be heard of "what is wrong" with the town in a local pub or grocery store than through the medium of city government.

The purpose of government is to serve the people. No one can serve knowing not what the people want.

There are two ways these "gripes" may be taken to a level above common chatter. The most, and most effective, is through attending a city council meeting, or by writing a letter to your city councilmen.

The second is through The Record. There are two outlets for gripes in this newspaper. The first is the editorial page. The second is "The Letter To The Editor" department. Both are open to you, the public. There is no charge for this type of voice in government affairs. Don't hesitate to write The Record.

Come the day when tongues and receptive ears realize that they are the power in Daly City, we will have a perfect government.

Don't be bashful. Let your voice be heard. Come to the council meetings. Write your Daly City councilmen. Write The Record.

Let us do something about these gripes. Let us put the "gripe" to work for democracy.

$40 Month Raise

Board Of Review To Study Report Of City Employees' Wage Demands

A report by Orrin Wendling, city administrative officer, pro tem, on the requested city employees for an across-the-board pay will be submitted to the Civil Service Board of Review late this week.

Wendling said he had no comment on the demand of the 40 employees for an across-the-board pay boost of $40.

However, general indications are that the employees will not receive the full $40. This opinion is based on general salary increases in other Peninsula cities where the average hike has been much lower than $40.

Report Pending

When the Board of Review have gone over Wendling's report—based on findings in some 15 Bay Area cities—they will make a report to the city council. This is expected to be made within the next two weeks.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Marion McKaskle, employees representative, remained adamant in her demand for $40.

"We think this is a very fair raise, and believe under present living conditions that to receive any less would not be just," Mrs. McKaskle noted.

City councilmen, who ultimately must pass on the salary demands, are generally agreed that a raise is in order. However, they, too, are waiting on the report from the Board of Review before setting a figure for the raise.

Gas Station Thief Makes $250 Haul

In the fifth big theft of the week, unidentified burglars broke into a service station at 7298 Mission Wednesday night, and got away with $250 in goods.

The burglary was discovered by Sgt. Roland Petrocchi, who, on his regular rounds, found the door of the station open. However, it wasn't until early Thursday morning that the exact loss was tabulated.

Police report the thieves got away with tires, batteries, and other such items.

New Mission Street Parking Lot Approved

Another blow has been struck by the San Francisco Parking Authority to make available more parking space in congested shopping areas.

The Authority has approved advance of $445,000 to establish a block-long parking lot adjacent to the Mission shopping district.

The lot would accommodate 250 automobiles or, at a normal turnover rate, approximately 1000 to 1,250 cars a day.

Three Men Injured In Head On Wreck

Three men, one from Daly City, suffered injuries Wednesday morning when two automobiles hit head on in a wreck in front of the Jefferson High School.

Taken to Junipero Serra hospital, and treated for injuries were: Nello Marchetti, 46, 52 Market street, fractured rib and lacerations; Robert Miles, 23, San Francisco, fractured shoulder and lacerations; Albert O. Schlichtmann, 41, Burlingame, possible chest injuries.

Marchetti, who was driving north on Mission at 8 a.m., told officers that he suddenly lost control of his car and it began to skid. Schlichtmann, with Miles by his side, was coming south. The two automobiles met head on, police said.

No citations were issued, pending further investigation, officers said.

Both cars, which folded like accordions when they hit, were listed as total wrecks. Police are mystified as to how the three men escaped death.

Broadmoor Cops Capture Juveniles

Two young alleged auto thieves, 13 and 15 respectively, are in the custody of juvenile authorities today following a chase in Broadmoor Monday evening.

Larkin Roller, 767 Thornhill drive, reported to police at 9:30 p.m. that the two youngsters had pushed his car from in front of his home, in an attempt to get it started.

Suddenly the car got out of control, rolled for six blocks and smashed into a fence at Manila and Midway, bounced off the fence and came to rest at 1630 Manila Way after knocking down two trees.

Officer Pagel, of the Broadmoor Police Department, captured one of the boys as he was running up White street. With the help of Chief Paul Schmidt and Lt. Harry Brown, plus two Daly City officers, the second boy was apprehended at his home.

Sailor Held On Weapons Charge

Facing a possible navy court martial today is a "gob" who was arrested at Wits End tavern Friday night for carrying concealed weapons.

He is Norwood V. Benson, 27, sailor aboard the U. S. S. Blenny. The weapon was noticed by bartender Andy Anderson who immediately called police. Officers found a revolver tucked inside the sailor's pants.

Police said Benson, who was dressed in civilian clothes, did not threaten anyone with the gun. He was turned over to navy authorities Saturday.

Council Approves Library Aid

Death At His Feet

Local Soldier's Action Commended

How does it feel to have a live grenade snuggling up to your army boots?

Pvt. Eugene Lagomarsino, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lagomarsino formerly of Daly City, can tell the world today. And the only reason he, and several of his comrades are alive to tell the tale, is due to quick action by Eugene.

Now in training at Fort Ord, 22-year-old Eugene was out on the grenade range with several of his fellows. Object of this particular training is to toss a live grenade over a cement wall.

All went well until one of the soldiers tossed his grenade. It hit the wall with a thump and tumbled back to the feet of Eugene. Without a moment's hesitation, Eugene picked up the grenade, and this time saw that it cleared the wall. It exploded before it hit the ground.

In an official commendation, Colonel Warren S. Shelor, First Infantry Regiment Commander, complimented Lagomarsino:

"Quick action and disregard for your own safety in retrieving and training is to toss a live grenade has saved the life of one man and prevented injury to many."

"By this act you have demonstrated qualities which make you a credit to the Army of the United States."

CITY HALL CLOSES FOR WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

City hall will be closed, with the exception of the police department, Monday, February 12.

In observation of Washington's birthday, the city employees will take a one day vacation.

All offices will be open for business again Tuesday.

The council meeting, which is regularly held Monday, will be held Tuesday evening, February 13, at 8 o'clock.

INCOME TAX ADVICE TO BE GIVEN HERE

This week the government offered the taxpayer assistance in getting its share of the taxpayer's income.

A deputy collector from the San Mateo Office of the Collector of Internal Revenue will be at the Daly City Bank of America February 27 and 28 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

He will assist and advise taxpayers in the filling out of their current income tax returns.

POST OFFICE WORK TO BEGIN SOON

Building Delayed Until Government Approves

Unless some unforeseen difficulty arises, work will begin on the new Daly City post office about March 1, John F. Fixa, San Francisco postmaster, said today.

Fixa noted that he is now awaiting a permit from Washington, D. C., to proceed with work on the building. The permit, which he is sure will be obtained, is necessary under the provisions of the new building regulations which restrict commercial construction.

Plans Complete
A. R. Haskins, 6995 Mission, has been awarded the contract for the building. Fixa said Haskins has completed all plans for the structure, and has been waiting clarification of the building regulation before starting construction.

"There is no time limit on building," Fixa said. "However, the (Continued on Page 2)

Lawyer Claims Client Was Never Charged With Murder By New York Police

January 24, 1951

To Whom It May Concern:

Recently there appeared in the local newspapers a story to the effect that my client, Jerry Galente, of 53 Theta avenue, Daly City, was charged in the courts of the City of New York with robbery and murder of Salvatore Giglio in New York City in or about 1946.

This story also indicated that Galente was to be arrested by New York City detectives who had accompanied an assistant district attorney from the office of the District Attorney of Kings County, New York, to bring Galente back to New York City to face these criminal charges.

Actually, none of these statements which appeared in this story are true or in accord with the facts.

The Facts

The facts are that Galente was not charged with the commission of any crime by the New York City police or the assistant district attorney who came to California. After the police and the assistant district attorney from New York City questioned Galente, they informed him that their sole interest in him was to have him come to New York City to appear as a witness against one Paul Panepinto who was actually charged with the murder of Giglio.

Galente accordingly voluntarily

Building Slump

Construction Off 60 Per Cent Here

Construction of the new Westlake shopping center and adjoining office space accounted for almost 80 per cent of the building permits issued in Daly City last month.

Total value of permits issued to this important Westlake development was $332,873. The total value of all permits issued for January was $408,873.

As predicted by Building Inspector George Hopman, building was off almost 50 per cent last month as compared to January, 1950. Last month there were six permits issued to build that many homes at a total value of $44,500. This compares with 116 homes at $965,610 for the same month in 1950.

As building restrictions and lack of materials become more accelerated, the building slump will hit even harder, Hopman said.

COUNCIL EXPECTED TO OK ANDERSEN

Official Appointment To Come Tues. Night

(Ed. Note: Your city council meets at 8 o'clock Tuesday, February 13 at City Hall, 75 Wellington Avenue. Be there. Put democracy to work.)

What up to now has been decided in two closed meetings, is expected to be officially approved at the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, February 13.

Officials say at this meeting Dan Andersen will officially be named to replace Orrin Wendling as the city's new administrative officer. Councilmen, some of whom appeared opposed to naming a new officer only two days after Wendling had retired, have swung into line and are expected to approve Andersen.

Named

Councilman A. J. Gaggero and Fred Bertetta will be named to represent Daly City on the North San Mateo County Sanitary District Commission. At some later date the county board of supervisors will name one of its own members to the commission. Purpose of the commission is to govern the new sanitary district which in time will include a $450,000 sanitary sewage disposal plant.

Meanwhile, Daly City residents will be called on to vote, via mailed questionnaires, whether or not they wish to pay their water bills every two months instead of once a month as at present. The questionnaires will be sent out sometime next week, after the council meeting.

Money Saves

The council has gone on record favoring bi-monthly payments as this will save time and considerable expense in the water department.

The controversial parking meter question is not expected to come up at Tuesday's meeting. Attorney Thomas Gallen, representing merchants on "top of the hill," said he would present a petition opposing the meters sometime after the first of next week. Judge Thomas Bocci, representing the merchants from School to Market street, said he, too, would submit his petition next week.

THREE REAL ESTATE LICENSES ISSUED HERE

FEB. 8.—(CNS)—D. D. Watson, State Real Estate Commissioner, today announced issuance of real estate salesmen's licenses to Edmund Thomas Smith, 6029 Mission street and William James Difu, same address, Daly City, and George Clayborne Harrison, 2700 Junipero Serra Blvd., Colma.

ATOMIC BOMB LIFE SAVERS

When a Hiroshima or Nagasaki type atom bomb explodes high in the air, your chances of survival are about:

50-50 if you're a half-mile to a mile away.

85-100 if you're a mile to a mile and a half away.

97-100 if you're a mile and a half to two miles away.

100-100 beyond two miles.

Slightly over half those a mile from the atomic explosion in Hiroshima are still alive. Seventy per cent of those a mile away from the explosion at Nagasaki survived. Today, thousands who survived both attacks live in new houses built where their old ones once stood.

Seek shelter—and increase your chance of survival!

Council Answers Plea of P.T.A.s And The Record To Improve Library

Acting at a closed session Monday night, the city council approved plans to renovate the Daly City library.

Jim Kennedy, chairman for the library improvement committee, said today that work would begin very shortly on certain basic improvements. These will include enlarging the children's room, putting up more shelves, and construction of a small office for the librarian.

DAN ANDERSEN, manager of the Daly City Theatre, is expected to receive official word that he is the new city administrative officer at a regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening. Andersen, a leader in Daly City civic affairs and a well known business man, will replace Orrin Wendling who retired last week.

Holdup Men Strike Four Times Over Week-end In Daly City

Holdup men, operating in teams, succeeded in snatching $800 in cash, and close to $600 in goods from Daly City concerns over the week-end. One victim suffered minor head wounds when he was slugged by a gunman.

The first foray came off at 6:45 o'clock Friday evening when two young gunmen entered the School Street Grocery, and made off with $600.

Louis Bozza, owner of the store, told police that one of the two—some entered the store and asked for a package of cigarettes. As Bozza leaned over to pick up the quarter tossed on the counter, the thief pulled a long barreled black automatic from his pocket.

Hand It Over
"Give me your wallet," he ordered, motioning Bozza and his wife to stand still.

As the thief received $600 from the wallet, he noticed Mrs. Bozza becoming nervous. "What's in the cash register," he asked, as he tossed the empty wallet on the floor. When he saw the register was almost empty, the thief backed out of the store and ran to a parked automobile.

Bozza told police that he saw a second man behind the wheel of the car which headed north on Brunswick.

Second Duet

Almost 24 hours later, at 9:10 p.m. Saturday evening, another criminal duet made a $120 haul from the Philosophy Store at 38 Hillcrest Drive.

Again, one of the robbers, after he had forced Nicholas Shola, owner of the store, into a back room, asked for a wallet. When he was (Continued on Page 2)

Estimated cost of the "stop gap" project is about $500, Kennedy said.

Only Temporary

The Daly City councilman reiterated that these are only temporary improvements until such time as a new library can be constructed.

"We feel the real answer is a new library," Kennedy said. "However, until the present Community Center is completed we do not think this is the time to start construction."

Kennedy said the council had explored the idea of renting larger quarters until a new building could be constructed. However, he said this was abandoned when it was found the cost would be "sky high."

Commission

"Cognizant of the need for a better library system, we hope in the next few years to build not only a new building, but also to put branches in Westlake, Colma and other sections of the city as it grows," Kennedy said.

Turning to a suggestion that a library commission be appointed, Kennedy said that this had met with the approval of the council. Purpose of the commission would be to study library problems and offer solutions to the council. It also would generally supervise the library.

Kennedy noted that within the "near future" the council will probably appoint various citizens to the commission. The members will be chosen from every section of the city so as to give a fair representation.

Donate Today To March of Dimes

Donations for the current "March of Dimes" may be placed in any of a number of special containers in stores throughout Daly City.

This announcement was made today by Fritz Erickson, president of the Daly City Bank of America, and unofficial chairman for the "March of Dimes" campaign in Daly City.

He noted that each year the Bank distributes the containers to various places of business in this area. Erickson said to his knowledge there would be no house to house campaign in Daly City.

"However, those wishing to donate money to the drive may do so by stopping in at the Daly City Bank of America," Erickson said.

All money from the drive is used to assist the fight against polio.

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

The other night we had dinner with a Communist.

Despite his political leanings, he is a good friend of ours, and perfectly sane about everything except government. Usually, in order to avoid unpleasant arguments, we stay away from political conversation. This is not always easy, especially as our friend is an ardent foe of Democracy.

As few have an "opportunity," if this is the proper word, to converse with an admitted Communist, we believe a few words about him should be interesting.

Average Man

He, we shall call him John, comes from an average middle class family. For the most part John had a happy childhood, married only by the death of his father when he was 12. He finished high school academically from a Washington state high school, and went on to college. Three months later he enlisted in the army. Four years later he was discharged, wiser by a year of combat in Europe. He was a good soldier.

Returning to college, he finished high in his class. He majored in philosophy. Then, for no reason he will admit to anyone, he joined the Communist party. He soon began writing for one of the smaller "Red" newspapers. Today, he spends part of his time tirelessly turning out articles, and earns a living as a clerk in one of our large department stores.

The History

That is the history of the man. But what happened to make him swing into the ranks of the Communist party? We have asked John this question time and time again. His reply has been so mixed with Communist doctrine that it is actually no reply at all, but an affirmation of the lopsided dogma of the "red" party.

There is a saying that "a man becomes what we make him," so perhaps it is dangerous to speculate. However, we are inclined to believe John is a Communist for the very reason thousands of other intellectuals are of the same breed. It boils down to a misguided compassion for his fellow man.

Through philosophy, right or wrong, John denied religion. Through acute observation of his fellow men, he has concluded, right or wrong, that most are economically miserable. Denying the existence of an all-wise God who remedies the misery of men, John was forced to turn to a secular faith which proposed to save men on earth... that was

Communism

Only Cure

It is his firm conviction that Communism is the only remedy for the grief that is man's lot. He believes this to the point where he has sacrificed what might have been a happy life to one of flight from the men he seeks to save.

Knowing him, and believing we know why he is a Communist, it is hard to hate John. He is to be pitied. Yet, when the chips were down we wonder what his attitude would be toward us, a poor creature of the democratic system.

Hesitation

Secretly we know he would hesitate, but would end by cutting our throats, if it were to further the work of the party. John is a "sick," dedicated, misguided man. Today, outside of the realm of politics, he is our friend. Tomorrow, he may be our enemy. We have often thought the solution for John would be a one way trip to Russia. But what can you say to a man who answers a question like that with: "Paul believed in Christianity, and he was, as I, a preacher among the pagans. It would have been better for Paul to return to the lap of Christianity, out he saw his duty and remained to die."

John honestly admits he would like to go to Russia, but "duty" holds him here. He is sincere. Now tell us, what does one do with a friend like John?

Man has long wondered at the stupidity of the moth which is hypnotized and destroyed by a candle flame. Now, what of the thousands of men who stand in the early morning watching the light of the Atom bomb explosions in Nevada?

Yo-Yo season has returned. It is a Chinese toy dependent on a small piece of wood tirelessly extending and returning of a string. The Chinese army in Korea seems to have adopted the principle of the Yo-Yo on the battlefield. Our G-Is soon hope to foul up the game.

It appears that the government has added a new synonym to the word "income." "Tax" is getting to be a word of almost the same meaning.

In a world mad with activity and motion it is heartening to see so much fuss being made in Daly City over how much it costs, and for how long, a man may rest... i.e. his automobile in front of a parking meter.

Meet Your City Officials

Judge W. J. Sweeney Whose "Rambler" Carried Him Into The Auto Business

It all started with the "Rambler," a sporty roadster with presto lights and functional lines that was known to hit 30 miles an hour on a speedway.

"She was a real beauty," Judge W. J. Sweeney recalls today. Puffing slowly on one of the cigars that are as much a part of his character as his square Irish face, Judge Sweeney gazed contently out the window at the sign "Wm. J. Sweeney & Sons, Studebaker Dealers." "This business grew out of my first experiences with the Rambler. Cars have come a long way since the early 1900's, but I'll never forget that roadster."

Good Business

Nor will the horses that at one time were the leading "customers" of Judge Sweeney's grandfather's blacksmith shop. The shop was doing a thriving business three years after young Sweeney came into the world at Stevenson street in San Francisco.

The smithy was one of the first three buildings which dotted the acreage that was Daly City in 1886. On that same spot today is the business, now dealing with cars, that Sweeney's grandfather opened so many years ago.

Around The Horn

A great one for buying up property, Sweeney's grandfather was an Irish emigrant who came around the "Horn" in a clipper several years before the gold rush. The Judge describes him with the fondness and admiration due a two fisted pioneer who during his life time tried everything from panning gold to undertaking.

"It was about 1850 that my grandfather and his two brothers bought 200 acres south of here, at just 35 cents an acre. The purchase was made a few minutes after a bull fight south of San Francisco."

Judge Sweeney also recalls that his mother was the first white woman born in the Sierras. And this was not enough, she is the founder of the Young Ladies Institute.

It Might Have Been

Sweeney's grandfather bought the site at 6800 Mission because he believed San Francisco would soon expand south. "At that time he could have bought property in the heart of San Francisco at the same price," Judge Sweeney wistfully recalls.

With the blacksmith shop going full blast, the grandfather decided to put up a roadhouse next to the shop. The "Cottage," as it was called, was a great landmark until it was torn down to make way for the main building of the present Studebaker business in the 1920's.

Seeing that business was so good in the "cow pastures" south of San Francisco, the Sweeney family moved here in 1889. A few years later Judge Sweeney was enrolled at Jefferson elementary school, and upon graduating went to St. Ignace in San Francisco. However, he didn't finish school, as when he was 15, his father was killed by a streetcar while leading a team of horses down the car tracks.

Bright Future

By 1902 young Sweeney was learning the blacksmith trade, and it appeared that a bright future was ahead. Then somebody came along with an idea for a horseless carriage. "I saw there might be something to a replacement for the horse, so by 1907 I put in a gas pump outside the smithy," Sweeney remembers. "Our's was the only pump on the right hand side of Mission from the Ferry Building to Colma at that time."

The Judge remembers rising early Sunday morning to find a line of cars outside the shop waiting for gas. It was about this time that the Judge bought the "Rambler," and as the word "mechanic" was still to be used in connection with cars, Sweeney was forced to make his own repairs. Before long he found he knew as much about automobiles as horses, and possibly a little more.

New Sign

The next year, 1908, the blacksmith shop doors were closed, and a new sign went up... "Garage." Judge Sweeney had come into his own. "Oh, that Rambler was responsible all right," the Judge repeated, "To this day I'll never forget the trip form here to Santa Cruz. We left at 7 o'clock one morning, and got in at 11 that night. It wouldn't have taken so long, but have you ever driven a car backwards up a mountain?"

The Judge went on to explain that in those days a vacuum gas tank was unheard of, and it was necessary that the tank always be above the carburetor so that gas could run down to the motor. Going up a hill this was reversed, and the car conked out, consequently, it was necessary to go up backwards to keep the gas supply above the engine. Amused and interested in automobiles, Judge Sweeney soon had a thriving business as a mechanic. It was in 1922 that he decided to sell them new, and he opened his present Studebaker dealership.

Active Interest

Between the "Rambler" and his garage, Judge Sweeney had time to take an active interest in city affairs. "Of course, there wasn't much of a city here in the early days. I can recall in the 90's about two streets, and a dozen or more residents... that was Daly City."

It was in 1920 that Judge Sweeney joined the fire department, and in 1920 he became Chief of Company No. 4. A year after he began chasing fires, he ran for, and was elected to the office of clerk of the Jefferson Elementary school board. He held that position until 1941 when he was appointed city judge. "During my time on the board I saw the school system almost triple in size."

One Stab

The only time Judge Sweeney ever took a stab at city politics was in 1912 when he ran for city council. He didn't make it. "That was enough for me. I decided to stay clear of city hall, or at least a councilman's seat."

As a matter of fact, if it had not been for the San Francisco fire, Judge Sweeney might never have assumed the roll of politico, or Daly City pioneer.

Just six months before the disastrous fire, the Sweeney family leased out the roadhouse and moved to a spot close to 14th and Valencia. The Judge at this time had a job with one of San Francisco's leading black smith shops.

Big Fire

"I was sound asleep that morning," the Judge recalls about the earthquake, "a second later the quake hit and I was tumbled out onto the floor. I grabbed my pants, found my little sister, and made for the door."

"Looking out on Valencia street I saw piles of bricks where buildings once had stood. There was a terrible rumbling and roaring as if the whole city was falling apart. In the sky was a smoke ring, something like the blast from an A-bomb."

At the corner, the Judge heard groans coming from the rubble where a building had once stood. The remains of the three story structure had tumbled into a vacant lot just south of its base.

Terrible Sight

"We found a man who had been injured in bed. Between my sister and myself we took him to the S. P. Hospital. At the hospital I saw hundreds of victims being carried in. It was a horrible sight."

Their San Francisco home a shambles, the Sweeney family returned to Daly City, and for a time took up housekeeping in a cottage where the present Eagles Hall stands.

"By the way, shortly after that I joined the Eagles. I'm one of the few remaining charter members," Judge Sweeney said.

United Nations

A few years after the fire and the acquisition of the "Rambler," the Judge married. His first wife died in the influenza epidemic of 1917.

The present Mrs. Sweeney is the former Rose Bignotti, an Italian as the sunny shores of Italy. Sweeney, who is Irish in blood, temperament and appearance, asserts he and his wife have always found that it is possible to carry on a relationship like the United Nations, but much more peacefully.

Judge Sweeney has two sons, Bill and Ray, both of whom are graduates of Daly City schools and San Mateo Junior College. They account for the "Sons" after the Studebaker dealership. Bill is the proud father of a son, and Ray has presented grandfather Sweeney with five grandchildren... going on six.

Many Cases

Since he was appointed to the job of city judge, Sweeney has tried "thousands" of cases and married more couples than a good number of pastors.

"About the strangest marriage of his career came a few years ago when he wed a 72-year-old lady, who asserted she was a close relation to Napoleon, and her 55-year-old boarder. The marriage lasted just one week."

"The lady came to me, and inquired how to get a divorce," the Judge chuckled. "She said she couldn't stand her new husband. Seems he refused to give her his paycheck."

No Gas

While he has been on the bench, the Judge has heard the pleadings of everyone from minor traffic violators to murderers. One of the more amusing cases came during gas rationing when a motorist was stopped for running through an arterial stop.

"It's like this judge," the driver explained, "With my 'A' card I have just enough gas to get around. If I have to stop it uses more gas, so I don't stop."

Judge Sweeney let that case go by without a fine.

Just how much longer Judge Sweeney will be a city judge depends on a new state law which abolishes small city judgeships. But regardless of whether he is unable to find the money compartment of the wallet, the young man shoved a gun in Shola's ribs and forced him to open the cash register.

A moment later the second gunman had emptied the register of $120 in cash. Shola was locked in a back room, and the two men made their get-away in a car.

Third Wallet

A wallet played a prominent part in the third robbery at the gas station at Junipero Serra boulevard and 87th street at 3 a.m. Monday.

At gun point, Kester Fugitt, attendant of the station, was forced to open the cash register for two gunmen. As one of the men scooped $68 out of the till, another took Fugitt's wallet. "Now turn around," barked the man who had taken the wallet. As Fugitt obeyed, the man slugged him over the head with his gun butt.

There was no money in the wallet, Fugitt reported from Junipero Serra hospital where he was treated for head lacerations.

Curtain Down

The curtain came down on the weekend of crime at the deLeon Music Store, 6129 Mission, Sunday evening. A burglar, after an unsuccessful attempt to force the back door of the store, went to a great deal of trouble to smash a back window. Removing putty from three sides of the window, the thief placed tape over the glass. Then, using a blunt object, he smashed the pane.

Once inside the store, the thief went to the showcase where he lifted two saxophones, whose total value is close to $60.

Manager M. P. deLeon found the musical instruments missing when he opened the store Monday morning. This is the second burglary of the store in the past six months.

Four Local Men Enlist In Navy

The Navy Recruiting Office, located in the post office building in San Mateo, announces that 70 young men have enlisted in the Navy through their office during the month of January.

Chief Pete Foulger, Torpedoman, USN, further states that the Navy is still taking enlistment applications and placing them on a waiting list for future enlistment. Currently there are twelve men sent to the Navy Training Center, through their office, for basic training at San Diego, California. In the very near future the number of men enlisting will be increased at least four-fold, after a new training center is commissioned near San Diego.

Navy enlistees from the Daly City area are as follows: Eagen, Richard Alan, 120-B Los Olivos avenue, Daly City. Faber, Clement James, 811 87th street, Colma.

Peterson, Reinhold Tage, 638 Hanover street, Daly City. Rasmussen, Paulus John, 443 Vista Grande avenue, Daly City.

Presently, the Navy desires applications from women between the ages of 20 to 26 for enlistment in the women's component of the Navy. All young women interested in joining the "Waves" may obtain further information from your Navy recruiter and also from Chief Dougherty, female recruiter, who will be in the post office in San Mateo to interview, answer questions, and accept applications for enlistment in the Waves on this Friday, February 9.

STAINLESS STEELS IN WESTERN EUROPE

The chemical and petroleum industries remained the largest outlet for nickel-containing stainless steels in Western Europe during 1950. New oil refineries in Great Britain have taken large tonnages. In India, the world's largest sulphate of ammonia plant, now under construction, has required substantial quantities of stainless steels.

Work On Post Office To Begin Soon

post office department expects Haskins will complete the job from three to four months after he begins.

Specifications call for a modern, one story stucco frame building to be built by Haskins, and leased from him by the post office.

Zoning Law

The building has been planned to meet the needs of Daly City for the next 10 years, and will replace the present post office on Mission street.

When the government gives the green light to construction, Haskins must overcome another obstacle. This is the city zoning laws. The present site for the proposed building is zoned residential, and it will have to be changed to commercial.

City officials see no objection to the rezoning, but reiterate they will take no final stand until Haskins presents his plans for the building.

150 COUNTY MEN TO BE CALLED IN APRIL DRAFT

Approximately 150 men will be called up for the April draft from San Mateo County, it was learned today.

More than 150 men were furnished by the county in January, and 112 will be sent up in February. During March, 287 men will receive pre-induction examinations, and 112 of these will be called to duty.

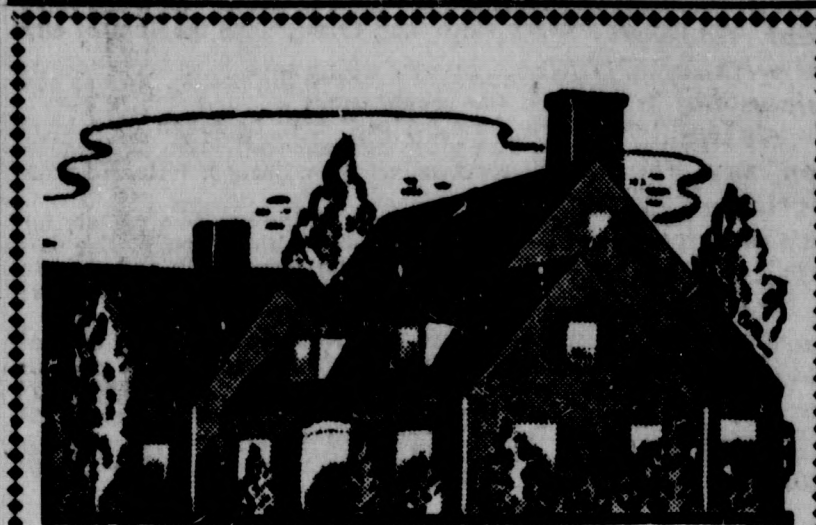

All men to be inducted in February will go to Fort Ord from the San Francisco induction station.

RED CROSS THANKS THE RECORD FOR HELP

Dear Mr. Bradshaw,

Mrs. Charles Grigg, our Public Information Director, has called to my attention the very wonderful way The Record has been co-operating with our San Mateo County Chapter of the Red Cross.

I wish to personally thank you and your staff, and especially compliment you on the Red Cross paragraphs which have been appearing in each recent issue of your paper.

The value to our organization of this type of publicity is immeasurable and chapter officials join me in sincere thanks for your efforts in helping to make our coming drive a success.

Sincerely,
Dan Minto,
Chapter Chairman.

Service Men's Families May Get Medical Assistance

Dependents of men in service may be eligible for medical treatment in armed forces hospitals or dispensaries under certain conditions, according to Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer, San Mateo County, but he points out that there are so many "ifs" involved that it would be well for them not to count on such assistance as a "sure thing."

Both in-patient and out-patient treatment are included in the medical care which the services make available to dependents where possible. Treatment, however, is limited to acute medical and surgical conditions, Granger said, and then only if sufficient facilities are available.

"Childbirth is one of the conditions for which care may be provided," he added. "However, such things as dental conditions, contagious diseases, psychiatric conditions, or conditions requiring domiciliary care are not provided."

There is no charge for out-patient service, but in-patient care involves a charge of $1.75 per day. Dependents must also pay their own travel expenses to and from the military installation.

He advised dependents of men in active service to find out in ad-

SAN MATEO COUNTY GETS BIG SCOOP OF ICE CREAM

Ice cream has lost none of its popularity with young California and adults too are showing a partiality for frozen desserts, the California Crop and Livestock Reporting Service announced today.

At the latest monthly check made by the service, production in the state reached 3,308,000 gallons, an increase of 23.1 per cent over a similar period the preceding year, and production in San Mateo county and district was set at 34,414 gallons of ice cream, 5,545 of ice milk, and 1,700 of sherbet.

Ice milk showed a gain of 18.2 per cent with 1,061,000 gallons produced, while 267,000 gallons of sherbet represented an increase of 55.2 per cent.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO—(CNS)—How the California Department of Employment can take more taxes, pay less benefits and still wind up with what amounts to a deficit for the year is one of the paradoxical puzzles of unemployment insurance financing.

In its report to the governor for the month of December, which totals revenue and disbursement, the department states that during the calendar year 1950, California's unemployment fund balance was $573.9 million, which was $16.5 million less than at the end of 1949.

Off Balance
But revenues to the fund totaled $165.8 million, $30.8 million more than during the preceding year. And for 1950, $181.7 millions were paid out in benefits, which was $71.5 million less than in 1949.

The answer to the puzzle, of course, is the fact that the department, despite a $71.5 million drop in benefit payments, still continues to pay out more money to the unemployed than it receives from employers in unemployment insurance contributions.

This situation has employers throughout the state jittery as to the future of unemployment insurance, and has caused a long series of bills to be introduced in the legislature which are designed to curb some of the asserted "chiseling" on the unemployment fund and direct the payment of insurance into channels where it will be used as actual "unemployment" insurance, instead of "vacation" pay.

Experts Know
It has been pointed out by experts in the field that the employer jitters are not without foundation. Already many business firms throughout the state have had a year's experience with increased taxes, which went into effect January 1, 1950, as a result of what students of unemployment insurance termed the "willy-nilly" payment of benefits to almost anyone who chose to apply.

Several investigations indicated that fraud and deception were rampant during the post-war years, and a senate committee headed by Fred Kraft of San Diego, estimated that the annual chiseling on the fund amounted to as high as $30 million.

Employers Saved
Although the fund continues to decrease, employers have been saved from the immediate threat of higher tax rates (the California Employment Stabilization Commission may fix all rates at 2.7 per cent of the payroll in certain instances) as a result of a drop in unemployment insurance payments and the upswing in employment as a result of the war effort.

Although the threat is not immediate, it nevertheless remains for as long as the Department of Employment continues to pay out more money than it receives in contributions, the fund is in a precarious condition and the principles of a gift by the state, rather than the principles of insurance, apply.

Trend Bad
If the trend set by the last few months of operation continues, it is predicted that the fund will start building up again in 1951. But on the other hand, if legislators see fit to increase benefit payments, a pattern of decrease may again be in order. And there is every indication that an increase in benefits to at least $30 per week has been agreed upon between business and labor.

Another twelve months must elapse before the complete answer is known, but the trends will be apparent with each monthly report of the Department of Employment.

Legislature To Consider New Plan For Handling State School Bond Funds
FEB. 8. — (CNS) — Dissatisfaction with the present method of handling state school bond money will be expressed in a report to be handed the state senate when it returns here March 12 for the second half of the 1951 legislative session.

The report is from the Senate Interim Committee on financing and construction problems of schools. Senator Chris N. Jespersen, of Atascadero, is chairman, and he is being aided in the study by Senator Jesse Mayo of Calaveras county.

In its prospective report, the committee says "the current plan of state-aid for school building construction does not function according to legislative intent."

"It results in uneconomical expenditure of state funds, and should be replaced by an entirely different plan of state aid."

Second Plan
Senator Jespersen already has the substitute plan before the legislature. He has introduced measures providing for the setting up of a public school building authority, which would operate the allocation of money on an equalization formula, construct schools according to district plans approved by the authority, and provide for the repayment of funds advanced through the same equalization formula.

The plan, according to S. J. Barlick, expert hired by the committee to work out details for a sound school financing operation, is somewhat similar to the plan followed in Pennsylvania, which he says has been found satisfactory.

Criticism
First criticism of the present plan of allocating the $250,000,000 voted by the people in 1949 to assist impoverished school districts build new schools came when the interim committee discovered the state allocations board, on recommendation of the Department of Education, was using the school bond fund for extensive replacement of existing school space, which the department of education and state architect claimed was not up to state standards.

Senator Jespersen, after an investigation, held that many of the replacements could be deferred until new space was made available to take care of California's overpopulated schools, many of which operate on the "split" session and generally are overcrowded.

Charitable Organizations Must File Income Tax
Thomas H. Kuchel, chairman of the Franchise Tax Board, warned that although charitable organizations and government agencies are themselves exempt from tax, they must file Information Returns Forms 599 for employees who earn $2,000 or more if single and $3,500 or more if married.

These forms must be accompanied by a Summary Return, Form 595. Forms may be secured from the San Francisco Office of the Board at 540 Van Ness avenue.

Scrap System
Some corrections were made at the 1950 legislative session, but the senator says these are not enough—the entire system of allocating money should be scrapped and placed in the hands of a school authority.

Such action, Jespersen says, would result in carrying out the intent of the $250,000,000 bond issue voted by the people, which he maintains was to provide added apportionment of $638,864.

County To Get $221,000 Gas Money
FEB. 8.—(CNS)—Distribution of $42,282,985 from the Highway Users Tax Fund to California counties, $221,513.65 to San Mateo county, was announced today by State Controller Thomas H. Kuchel.

The apportionment was for the quarter ending December 31, 1950, and all counties shared in the fund, the county allotment being $13,103,993. Allocations to cities total $5,151,121 and the remaining $24,027,871 has been deposited in the State Highway Fund for expenditure on highways of the state.

The gasoline tax returned $37,088,069, diesel fuel tax, $1,509,079; transfer from motor vehicle transportation tax fund, $3,684,929; and miscellaneous, $900.

Los Angeles with an apportionment of $4,056,145 ranked high among the counties while Little Alpine County was low with $15,587. Alameda county was second to Los Angeles county with an apportionment of $638,864.

State Police Report Busy Year
The California Highway Patrol last year made 318,913 arrests and issued 230,304 warning citations for various traffic violations, it was reported today. Of the totals, 259,332 arrests and 194,705 warnings involved private vehicles. There were 59,581 arrests made for commercial vehicle violations and 35,599 such warnings issued.

Moving violations accounted for 258,670, or 81 per cent of the total arrests made for both private and commercial vehicle infractions.

Commercial vehicle enforcement during the year resulted in the removal of 45,000,146 pounds of cargo in excess of legal weight limits.

Poverty Abroad
"In gallant England children now speak, and will always speak, of an ordinary egg as a 'shell egg.' They have been allowed two shell eggs a month for a period of ten years. In Denmark because of fuel and power conservation, there is no hot water after four o'clock, except for hospitals. In Germany children pick up the chocolate wrappers our occupation forces drop and suck them for the taste of sweet. In China small boats crowd about our service vessels, scooping up for food the grapefruit shells, the stale bread, the half-rotten potatoes that are thrown overboard."

"You'll never come to that. You'll emerge, as your country always has emerged, from this time of trial, all the stronger."

You may be grateful all your life that you had it. You may get a new sense of values, of the meaning of money and budgeting, and above all, of the beauty of home love and service and mutual dependence.

"And remember, that whether you like it or not, we have, as a nation, to face it. We can scramble through it with debts and complaints and black marketing and discomfort, or we can leave much of our old waste and extravagance and personal possessive selfishness behind and come out wiser, better than we went in."

ARMY: 24 Divisions
Army strength by July will be equivalent to 24 combat divisions, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, reported recently.

The build-up of combat strength by July will include 18 divisions and 18 regimental combat teams with supporting units, together with numerous independent tank battalions, field-artillery battalions and similar combat units.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Covered Wagon

SOME AMERICAN FAMILIES are going to have a terrible time in the next few years, and they are going to make difficulties for us all, and remind us that we are in a bad way.

Other American families will face this crisis as an adventure, and make it a period of such family co-operation that it actually will be enjoyable.

It is for Mother—and in a lesser sense Dad—to decide which path the family is going to take.

If you decide for the courageous way, get things in line right now. Gather the family together and make a little speech something like this:

"We are now climbing up into a prairie schooner, popularly known as a Covered Wagon. We are going to take along only the very necessities of life. Here on this blackboard your father and I have made a note of what we owe. You will see that it is something over $300. Our first job is to pay that off."

"When that is paid, food limitations, gas limitations and power limitations will have come to America. They will not be as rigorous as those other nations—almost all other nations—have had to endure for the past 10 years. But to you they will seem severe."

Inexpensive Meals
"They will include meals that will fill you warmly and appetizingly, but that to you will not seem like meals at all. This means that such dishes as macaroni and cheese, or beans, or a thick soup, or waffles, will each form a whole supper. Once a day you will have vegetables, and perhaps a little meat, but put steaks and chops and roasts and broilers out of your minds, once and for all. Breakfast will be an inexpensive fruit, like baked apples or stewed apricots, oatmeal, and toast with butter substitute. Mid-meal cakes and chocolate bars and milk shakes are out. If you don't like one meal—let us say you do not care for stuffed cabbage, baked sweets and prune shortcake—why, then you will be all the hungrier for the next meal."

"Lights must be turned out the minute you are through with them. Towels must be used carefully. Clothes must be worn for more than one season. Long distance calls are out. If you children can find means of making pocket money, by all means do so, and take in Saturday movies or Sunday hikes. But remember that this household is doing its share in the great government effort by going through the process known to mariners as shortening the sail. There must be no complaints. Any suggestions as to further economies or more appetizing meals will be welcome, but no grumbling."

"And just get it into your young American heads that whatever you sacrifice or suffer you are not enduring one-tenth of what your big brothers and cousins are facing—when they are only in army camps at home. Loneliness, homesickness, the deadly monotony of drill, the lack of personal freedom—these things you are not expected to meet. And this is the best of war. The worst is the cold, the pain, the shock and fear of battle fronts; the misery of dying without one look from a loving home face; the dazed horror of coming home to be forever helpless, or in pain, or in the dark."

New Contract
John L. Lewis, (right), president of the UMW, puts on the nearest thing to a smile he can manage after he and Harry M. Moses (left), president of the northern coal operators group, signed a new wage contract under which the miners received a $1.00-a-day pay boost. The increase became effective February 1.

LIVING COST: Hits an All-Time High
The cost of living in the United States hit an all-time high early in 1951, as the dollar worth less than 30 cents of its 1939 buying power.

TRUMP estimates placed the cost of living at 88.1 per cent higher than in 1939, although food alone went up almost 118 per cent in the last 12 years. The jump was even greater in some individual foods. For example, the bread and butter the average factory worker could buy in 1939 for 39 cents now cost him approximately $1.15.

An analysis of the figures revealed that a man who made $3,000 ten years ago now needs $5,440 to match his buying power. The equivalent of a $5,000-a-year income then is now $9,356.

The average factory worker earned approximately $1,390 a year in 1939 and about $3,000 last year, an increase of 115 per cent.

BONDS: Treasury Plans Extension
The treasury plans to offer holders of Series E savings bonds an opportunity to keep their bonds another 10 years at 2.9 per cent interest and to retain the government interest rate on long-term treasury bonds at 2.5 per cent, it was reported recently.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said holders may cast their bonds, continue to hold the present bonds with an automatic interest-bearing extension which would amount to 2.9 per cent compounded at the end of 10 years, or exchange the bonds for current-income savings bonds of series G, which bear interest every six months.

Congress must pass the 10-year extension, however, before it will become effective.

Of the $58,000,000,000 of total outstanding savings bonds, nearly $35,000,000,000 is in the series E.

RUSSIA: Delighted With Debate
The Soviet Union expressed its delight over the current foreign affairs debate in congress by releasing every criticism of President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The Russian government tells the people that the debate reflects deep American dissatisfaction with present foreign policy and a growing desire for a change in what it calls the "bankrupt policy of force."

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Communists Offer Vague Proposal For Negotiations in Korean War; Army Plans 24 Divisions by July

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

PEACE:

Price Is Too High

Communist China's ambiguous proposal for a truce in Korea fanned the hopes for peace among the American people and created a dangerous division among the free nations.

The Chinese proposal said, in part, if the withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea was being put into effect, Peiping would advise the Chinese volunteers to return to China. The statement did not guarantee that Chinese troops would be withdrawn, nor did it say anything about North Korean forces. The statement was too ambiguous in the opinion of most American observers.

Withdrawal of the U.S. fleet from Formosa and a seat in the United Nations for Communist China also appeared in vague terms in the proposal for a truce.

The kindest thing that could be said about the Chinese statement was that perhaps there was a desire for peace in China. But from the American view that price was too high.

From the more practical viewpoint, however, the note put the United States in a bad situation politically. If it agrees to consider Peiping's renewed overtures for a negotiated peace, it is bound to incur wide criticism at home. It shuns these overtures, the accusations of the Soviet Union may fall on more fertile ground.

The Chinese move was seen by some observers as an attempt to block the American proposal in the U.N. of branding China the aggressor in Korea. If that was its purpose, it succeeded, at least temporarily.

Other observers questioned the status of the statement. It was not addressed to the United Nations. It was little more than a postal card to India in reply to questions of policy.

The build-up of combat strength by July will include 18 divisions and 18 regimental combat teams with supporting units, together with numerous independent tank battalions, field-artillery battalions and similar combat units.

Collins indicated, however, he did not believe the nation's current goal of 3,463,205 men in the armed forces will be enough and the total boosted.

And while army officer and government officials talked of manpower problems on the home-front, a new Korean casualty list was announced by the department of defense.

An additional 2,424 casualties reported by the department, bringing the Korean war total to 45,137.

The department said 6,509 were killed outright, 772 had died of wounds, and 22 men originally listed as missing in action have been determined to be dead. Thus the death toll stood at 7,303.

Wounded totaled 29,951, including the 772 who later died. The missing total of 8,677 included 822 men who since have returned to American control and 108 known prisoners of war.

Housing
Housing Administrator Raymond M. Foley told the senate banking committee that the federal government may soon have to help communities build waterlines, roads, schools and other facilities to meet the needs of defense workers.

PRICE FREEZE: Needed for Long Time
By the time this appears in print, the administration should have acted on the price-wage controls so long needed to stabilize the nation's economy in its all-out mobilization effort.

During the early weeks of 1951 the need of price controls became a pressing matter as wholesale prices hit an all-time high. The cost of the average family's food was the highest in the nation's history.

Critics of the administration had demanded a price-wage freeze for some time. Government officials, however, protested any freeze would be meaningless unless adequate machinery to enforce price controls was available.

It was also apparent that there was considerable difference of opinion between Charles E. Wilson, defense mobilization chief, Allen Valentine, economic stabilization chief, and others in charge of the administration's efforts to set up a wage-price control organization.

President Truman entered the fray by firing Valentine and appointing Eric Johnston, head of the Motion Picture Association of America, to take his place. Johnston will settle any disputes between the OPS and WSB.

Administration critics demands for price-wage controls included a roll-back of price to January 1. As for wages, a temporary freeze was the most popular demand—but only temporary until some kind of wage control formula could be worked out.

TAFT:

A Shift in Policy

Observers of American political activity always keep an eye on the party not in power as an indication of the trend of thought in the nation. For this reason, Sen. Robert Taft was back in the limelight, causing considerable speculation on his sudden shift in policy toward sending U.S. troops to Europe.

Only a week before, Taft, who is undoubtedly the most influential Republican in congress, blasted away at the administration and President Truman, in particular, for promising to send troops to Europe.

Then, one week later, he shifted his position and said he would favor sending a limited number to the continent. What does it mean, the average American wanted to know?

It would seem that Senator Taft had suddenly become impressed with the fact that our safety is tied with that of western Europe. It would also indicate that he has removed the steam from the all-out opposition in congress to send troops to Europe.

When Taft first announced his opposition to participation of U.S. troops in the defense of Europe, he found himself confronted by a difference of opinion from other influential members of his party. A number of them expressed the opinion that a decision against sending additional troops to Europe would be fatal to any program of mutual defense.

Taft's shift, caused considerable comment on the American scene for two reasons. He has often been called an isolationist. And he is a man who seldom changes his policy once he has stated it publicly.

It is generally concluded that the majority of the American people do not sanction isolationism. Taft's shift could have been made because he recognized that fact. This does not mean, however, that the shift is so extreme that the senator from Ohio can be called an internationalist.

HOUSE: Brands China Aggressor
The house of representatives, in the opinion of many, blundered into the field of foreign affairs with a heavy step by demanding that the United Nations should immediately act and declare the Chinese Communists an aggressor in Korea.

The United States had been working for this in the behind the scene maneuvers at the United Nations for some time. For a while there were reports that the majority of western nations was in favor of the action.

Shortly after the house resolution was passed, however, opposition to the move appeared, especially among the nations in the middle east. Some nations adopted the attitude that branding China the aggressor would completely cut off any chances for a negotiated peace and agitate the international crisis.

The house action can be said to reflect the growing determination of the American people against the wave of appeasement that was evident in many quarters of the nations not so many weeks ago.

Draft Director
In the hot debate in congress over the drafting of 19-year-olds, Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, testified before the senate armed services subcommittee urging extension of the selective service law indefinitely and the drafting of younger men.

RUSSIA: Delighted With Debate
The Soviet Union expressed its delight over the current foreign affairs debate in congress by releasing every criticism of President Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

The Russian government tells the people that the debate reflects deep American dissatisfaction with present foreign policy and a growing desire for a change in what it calls the "bankrupt policy of force."

THIS CITY NEEDS BUS SHELTERS

Most Daly City residents have sense enough to come in out of the rain and wind, but too few who ride the buses have the opportunity.

Possibly the principal hazard to commuters' health and mental well being is the lack of proper bus shelters in Daly City. This is especially true at the "top of the hill" by the Bank of America. Here hundreds of residents wait each day either to go to San Francisco, Colma or Broadmoor.

During the summer months, when not exposed to fog, it is no great discomfort to stand out on the bleak sidewalk. But come winter, and the guy or gal without a hat and heavy topcoat is a potential guinea pig for the new preventive cold tablets.

Westlake, with an active home owners association, saw the light several months ago. Now this section of Daly City has some of the finest bus shelters in Northern San Mateo County. These bus shelters cost only $519 each.

Why, then, can't Daly City have similar, or even more modest protection, when the cost is so low? Revenue from the parking meters would well support such a project.

Come on, Daly City, get out of the rain. Build yourselves a few bus shelters.

DO YOUR BIT TO HELP DEFENSE

Within the next few weeks every resident of Daly City will receive a postcard from his city government.

He will be asked to fill out the card and return it to city hall. Purpose of the registration will be to have a quick check of every man, woman and child in Daly City in case of disaster.

When tabulated, the cards will give civilian defense workers a composite picture of the residents within the area he is to supervise. It is hoped that through this "registry," valuable time and even lives may be saved in advent of an A-Bomb or other form of attack.

To fill out these cards is to safe-guard you and your family.

When you receive one, be sure to return it promptly to city hall. A buried, forgotten card may some day well mean that you and your family will be buried and forgotten for good.

MORE LUNCH MONEY FOR "PINBALLS"

Number of lads and lassies under 18 counted playing pin ball machines in local establishments after 10 p. m. Monday night: 10.

Number of High School students playing pin ball machines in another local establishment during the lunch hour Wednesday: 15.

This is not to indict pinball machines. However, we are of the opinion they were built for the amusement of the adults and not for kids who waste lunch money to light up machines.

According to a city ordinance of June, 1942, pinball machines are legal in Daly City. In fact, they are legal for anyone, regardless of age.

This takes the police department off "the hook," but not the parents and the city government that forgot to put a clause in that ordinance.

How about a clause to make the machines off bounds for juveniles?

Sports, Travel And Boat Show Set March 2-11

The Pacific Coast's largest indoor show, the merged San Francisco-Oakland Sports, Travel & Boat Show, will stage the only boat show west of Chicago, March 2-11 at mammoth Civic Auditorium.

The indoor three-acre pavilion will be converted into an outdoor sportsmen's paradise complete with every line of sporting items from the latest lure innovations to a 46-foot Stephens cruiser, flagship of the sixth annual spectacle.

Featured

Featured among the myriad of displays is a complete fleet of boats from dinghy class to palatial cabin cruisers, including a 30-foot scale model submarine, christened the USS Golden Adolphin exhibited by the U. S. 12th Naval District.

Outdoor enthusiasts will find everything for the family vacation trip, including suggestions of where to go provided by tourist and travel agencies throughout North America. Camping equipment, latest model sport cars, fishing and nautical gear and equipment developed to make for easier living will be on exhibit.

Climax

Climaxing the array of displays is a spectacular seventy-five minute floor show presented twice daily from the stage placed at one end of the 30 by 60 foot indoor lake centered in the huge auditorium. The ten-act revue will utilize the pool with aquatic performances, dog retrieving acts, casting exhibitions, log rolling and canoe jousting. Anglers will use the pool to demonstrate their ability on the sky-blue waters with gear provided by the many dealers exhibiting their wares.

Children will be attracted to the "Huck Finn" casting pool, where they may try their skill for the planted rainbow trout, up to 12 inches in length.

Show manager Thomas R. Rooney has issued an invitation to all outdoorsmen and recreationists to attend the annual sports extravaganza, and predicts that the record 157,000 crowd last year will be exceeded for the coming show.

FOURTH COURT PLAN KILLED BY JURY

Plans for a fourth superior court in San Mateo County were killed this week by the county grand jury.

Thomas P. Foster, jury spokesman, said the jury passed a resolution opposing a fourth court at "this time."

Foster said the new municipal court setup, which goes into effect here and throughout the county January, 1951, may relieve the litigation load from the superior courts.

Assemblyman Richard J. Dolwig first introduced the measure for a fourth court.

NOISES NOT PERMANENT

Even in a car seven or eight years old some astonishing results are achievable with respect to noise elimination, declares the National Automobile Club. Give the car to a mechanic for an hour or two and let him try his hand at removing those annoying noises. The owner is bound to be surprised and pleased at the return on so small an investment.

Crocker Meets Jefferson For League Championship This Friday Evening

By ERLE JOHNSON

Due to a terrific come back on the part of Crocker's "A" team last Thursday night, and their defeating OLPH in an overtime period, the Crocker five will meet the Jefferson "A's" for a playoff, and the Daly City Junior Basketball championship Friday.

Last week's game was the most exciting this season. The Perpetual team had the game "sewed up" with only two minutes remaining to play, because they were ahead by six points. However, the Crocker team tied them, and the game ended 20-20.

With a tie score it was necessary to play a three minute overtime period. In this period Hutchinson was the hero by scoring two quick baskets to put his team out in front 24-22.

High Point

Hutchinson was the high point man in the game with 11 points, followed by Ziegler with 7 points. Watson, Ford and Joy all getting 2 points each.

For the losers, Machado lead his team with ten points, followed by Fontana 4 points, Murphy 3 points, Kennedy and Gonzales 2 points each and Waligora 1 point.

In the preliminary game, the Jefferson "B's" went on a rampage and completely outplayed a usually good team from Crocker. In winning this game, the Jefferson boys won the Championship for the "B" class. They will receive medals for their fine play and sportsmanship. Incidentally, the score was 26-6, which is a good football score. Roel and Funkhauser were the high scorers for the winners with 8 and 7 points respectively.

Girls Victorious

Tuesday afternoon the girls from Jefferson Grammar School defeated one of Charlie Moretti's teams from South San Francisco. In a game played two weeks ago the two teams played to a 20-20 tie, but in the game Tuesday the local girls came through with an impressive 13-9 score.

Barbara Seriani pitched a fine game for the winners, as did Jeanette Wallace for the South City team. There will be more games in the future, so watch for the results of them in this column.

The following girls played for the Jefferson team: Diane Giacchini, Barbara Seriani, Jeanne Weeck, Angie Serini, Joan Skover, Beverly Crudo, Nancy Fricker, Eunice Massoni, Aline DeBoton, Eileen DeBernardi, Gwen Anthony and Marie Bowen.

Civilian Defense Urged For Schools

SACRAMENTO, FEB. 8. (CNS)—A new responsibility of county schools was outlined today to James R. Tormey recently elected School Superintendent for San Mateo county, who attended a meeting for new superintendents here.

Roy E. Simpson, state superintendent of public instruction, told the 15 new superintendents who attended the session, that "In addition to the constructive educational program the county superintendents must serve, we must meet the needs of our respective communities for special services in the national emergency."

"These will involve measures to provide for the safety of children in case of disaster," Simpson said. "The necessity of co-operation with other local public safety and health agencies will be especially important under present conditions."

"The State Office of Civil Defense is making progressive plans which will involve the schools in this emergency. Federal plans are being developed and the responsibilities of county superintendents will be important in making these plans effective."

Division and bureau chiefs of the Department of Education reviewed the state's financial, consultant and advisory services to counties and districts.

SARTO A.C. WIN LEAGUE LEAD

Jefferson Night League Casaba In Mid Season

Firing 23 points from every position but on his head, Barnes sparked the Sarto five to another win and first place in the Jefferson High School Night League last Tuesday.

The brilliant showing by Barnes was just one point shy of the record run up by Giannechini for Ralph's Cleaners when the league opened.

Sarto rambled over the Jeaners by the impressive score of 58 to 39.

In the second game of the evening, Hoyt Heaters lost out to Veteran's Inn by two points in three minutes of overtime. On two free throws and ability to keep the ball away from the Heaters, the Vets wound up the game with a 42 to 40 win.

With the Sarto five on top of the league with three wins and no defeats, Vet's Inn is second with 2 on the positive side, and one negative; Ralph's third with one win and two defeats, and Hoyt Heaters on the bottom without a single victory.

This Tuesday, beginning at 7:20 p.m. Sarto A.C. will meet the Vets and Hoyt Heaters will tangle with Ralphs.

Few Important Revisions Made In 1951 Angling And Hunting Laws

A million and-a-half licensed California sportsmen will find their angling and hunting regulations approaching a predictable uniformity with the 1951 seasons and bag limits just announced by the Fish and Game Commission.

In their continuous efforts to simplify the State's annual field and stream regulations, commissioners enacted only a handful of major changes over 1950 rulings in the last of two annual regulatory powers meetings held in January.

Important revisions of last year's angling regulations include:

Addition of Modoc County to the late north coast and central Sierra trout angling season which opens May 26—the Saturday preceding May 30; summer trout fishing opens in the balance of the State on April 28—the Saturday nearest May 1;

Night Angling

Night trout angling in Bucks, Plumas County, will be allowed this year on an experimental basis;

Carp may be taken by bow and arrow, except in District 22, without season or bag limit;

Steelhead trout and salmon bag limit will be two fish a day in ocean waters south of the Monterey-San Luis Obispo county line;

Frog season extends from June 1 to January 31 throughout the State;

Monterey, San Benito, Santa Clara, and Santa Cruz counties were added to the southern California counties where year-round angling is permitted for warm-water fishes;

Bag Limit

The bag limit on specified ocean fishes was increased from 10 to 15, except that no more than 10 of any one of the species may be possessed.

Grunion may be taken by hand only, and appliances or sand holes designed to entrap grunion are prohibited;

Daily bag limit on Washington and big neck clams was upped from 10 to a combination of 25 in the Humboldt Bay area; no more than 10 may be transported out of district 1½;

Salmon spawning area closures in the San Joaquin, Merced, Tuolumne, and Stanislaus rivers will be effective November 1 instead of October 25.

New Rulings

The new rulings were based on recommendations made by representatives of the Division of Fish and Game, sportsmen, and the public. Most prior regulations remain in effect, while changes become law on March 1.

Major innovations in hunting regulations include:

An early deer hunting season starts August 11 in central and south coast areas, and ends September 16; a late season was set in Sierra, north coast, and San Diego areas between September 22 and October 21; western Tehama County was added to the early season; forked-horn deer may be taken throughout the State;

One Bear

One bear may be taken from November 1 to December 31 in Siskiyou, Trinity, Lassen, Shasta, Plumas and Modoc counties; two bears from October 31 to December 31 in the remainder of the State, except that no closed season or bag limit will apply in Del Norte, Humboldt, and Mendocino counties;

Two pheasants per day, one of which may be a hen, will be allowed in specified southern California counties where tests have shown the birds will not establish themselves; a 10-day State-wide season opens November 17—the third Saturday in November;

Quail hunting between November 3 and December 31 is legal in Humboldt and Del Norte counties and in the area north of the Golden Gate west of Highway 101; the season opens November 26 elsewhere and ends November 26 in districts 22, 4½, and portion of 4; December 15 in district 1¾; and December 31 in the balance of the State;

Tree squirrel hunting in Plumas County will be outlawed.

Water Safety Course Offered

A course in water safety opens at Jefferson High School pool Monday, February 12. Chris Schultz, Red Cross water safety chairman, announced this week.

The class will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday for two weeks. Schultz will be the instructor.

Object of the course is to train new water safety instructors. Also, included will be a refresher course and a senior life saving class.

Those interested in taking the classes are asked to contact Glenn South at Jefferson, PLaza 5-6661.

County Bees Must Step Up Buzz

FEB. 8. — (CNS) — San Mateo County's millions of bees will be called upon to produce more honey and the state's many keepers of the bees may increase their colonies as a result of a new discovery by scientists of the United States Department of Agriculture.
The discovery is a new honey-fruit spread, just another delicious confection designed to tickle the palates of consumers the nation over.
The specialists prepare the spread from concentrated fruit juices or puree mixed with honey. This mixture, when stored a few days at the right temperature, develops minute crystals which form the spread.
The honey used is of mild flavor or no flavor at all and that's where the scientists have made their best discovery, for they take strong honeys and develop them into a mild or tasteless product. This blends best with the fruit.
The discovery is important to California beekeepers for it opens a market for the strong honeys. This will encourage beemen to install more colonies which will in turn increase pollenization, vital to growers of fruit, vegetable and forage seed crops.

(Ed. Note: This is the sixth of a series of ten special articles.)

Of all the rackets that are milking the California unemployment insurance reserves fund, one that is particularly reprehensible even though it can be legal, is the "lag-quarter" racket.

It is estimated that this racket costs the honestly-unemployed about $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 a year from the reserve fund, that is supposed to protect them when they are out of work through no fault of their own.

With the reserve fund estimated to diminish about $23,000,000 this year, the importance of ending the lag-quarter racket easily can be seen.

Example
Here is how it is worked:
A person has been steadily employed for 18 months at a salary of $50 a week. On December 30th he is laid off. (Under these circumstances, it should be noted, he is entitled to unemployment insurance because he is out of work through no fault of his own.)
On January 2nd he files a claim for benefits.
In this case the individual's base earning period is the first 12 months he has total earnings of $2,600.
In the last 6 months his total earnings were $1,300.

Maximum Benefits
He uses the first 12 months earnings as basis for his first unemployment benefit payments and gets maximum benefits of $650, or $25 a week for 26 weeks. (The law provides benefits may be up to one-half his base period earnings, but not more than $650.)
This person remains unemployed for the 26 weeks and draws the maximum of $650 in unemployment insurance benefits.

Now, for the next six months the person must find some other means of support if he is to be a full-fledged "lag-quarterer."

Second Claim
But on the following January 2nd, the first anniversary of his first claim, still being unemployed, he files a second claim.
Again his unemployment insurance award is based on the first 12 months out of the last 18 months, and being the first 12 months, it includes the last 6 months that he was steadily employed, before he started his year of loafing on unemployment insurance.

For this last 6 months, remember he still has $1300 in wage credits, which being twice $650, entitles him to the maximum unemployment insurance benefits of $650 again, at the rate of $25 a week for 26 weeks.

Gets To Loaf
So the individual gets to loaf on unemployment insurance for the first and last six months of an 18-month period.
And he can do it legally, under the wording of the present act. This racket, however, is very unfair to the honest workman.

By honest workman, is meant the workman who gets out of work and lives on his savings while looking for another job, instead of rushing to the unemployment office to file a claim for unemployment insurance.

Too Late
If this honest workman does not find a job and exhausts his savings, it usually is too late for him to file for unemployment insurance. The time limit has passed.
So, the honest worker finds himself broke while his legally-honest but morally-dishonest fellow-worker takes advantage of the lag-quarter to draw benefits while loafing.

Correction of this loophole in the law certainly is a "must" and the method of doing it will be explained in later installments.

Lo, The Hot Cross Bun

History Of Lenten Staple Reaches Back To Legendary Greek Hero Worship

Almost as ancient as worship itself is the hot cross bun.

Although the stories of the origin of these spicy, sugar-coated buns are varied, their association with religious customs has never faltered, according to the American Bakers Association.

Records claim that Cecrops, legendary Greek hero said to have been the founder of Attica, known today as Greece, offered a sweet bun to the gods as far back as 1,000 B. C. Petrified and perfectly shaped buns were discovered at Herculaneum, destroyed by Mt. Vesuvius in 79 A.D.

Moon Buns

The early Egyptians offered buns, bearing two horns, to their Moon Goddess. The early Greeks changed the horn mark to a cross. The Saxons marked their buns with the cross in honor of Easte, their Goddess of Light. Romans, too, ate crossed bread, buying it at the temple doors when they went to offer public sacrifice.

The Christian fathers adapted the Greek and Roman custom of eating crossed buns as a religious factor in Lenten observance. Some reports state this custom stems from the bun's universal religious observance, while other reports say the bun was something the people felt they could eat during the Lenten period to replace pastries, cakes, and other rich foods which they may have decided to forego.

England Change

In England, which most people consider the native land of the modern hot cross bun, they were designed to be eaten on Good Friday, a fast day. Today, however, hot cross buns are eaten during the entire Lenten period.

Hot cross buns are most popular today in England and in the United States, where the custom was brought by the early English settlers.

The religious significance of the hot cross bun has been lost today, and it is no longer emblematical.

Tradition

Quaint traditions and superstitions still cling to the hot cross bun. In England, it is believed if a hot cross bun is hung in the chimney place on Good Friday, and left there during the entire year, it will bring good luck. Another olden superstition calls for the preservation of hot cross bun crumbs in strong boxes to be dissolved in water and taken as a cure-all when needed during the year.

So popular were these buns that a poem was written about them. This Mother Goose rhyme is familiar to everyone:

"Hot cross buns! Hot cross buns! One a penny, two a penny, hot cross buns!
If you have no daughters, give them to your sons,
One a penny, two a penny, hot cross buns!
If you have none of these elves,
Then you may eat them for yourselves."

New Methods In Music Training Explained

In a New York City public school, children learn to play the piano without leaving their desks. Describing this new method in music teaching, Good Housekeeping reports that youngsters between eight and 12, have a cardboard piano keyboard spread in front of them. While their teacher plays a real piano, they follow on their individual keyboards the notes written on the blackboard. The children also take turns at the real piano.

Parents and teachers find this group arrangement as satisfactory as private lessons.

P.T.A. Women Honor Mrs. Adami; Will Hold Founders' Day

The Woodrow Wilson P.T.A. executive board held its regular meeting on Tuesday, February 6, at the home of Mrs. William Berardy, 420 Vista Grande.

Assisting Mrs. Berardy in the serving of refreshments was Mrs. K. Atteberry. Mrs. Henry Adami, president of the organization was given a surprise shower of lovely handkerchiefs by board members.

Founder's Day

Plans for the Founder's Day program, which is to highlight the next regular meeting of P.T.A. members, were completed. It has been decided to hold the meeting at 7:30 p.m. on February 20 in the kindergarten room of the school, in order that fathers of pupils may attend.

Mrs. Stella Jensen, counselor, will explain the reason for Founder's Day. Three life memberships will be awarded and introduction of past Woodrow Wilson P.T.A. presidents will be made by Mrs. Jensen. Names of the recipients of life award memberships is a closely guarded secret and will come as a happy surprise to the persons so honored. The award consists of a beautiful pin for which P.T.A. pays the sum of twenty-five dollars. All monies spent for these awards is put into a fund and used to aid students in furthering their education. Awards are given on the basis of work done on behalf of child welfare.

Rhythm Band to Entertain

Pupils of both Mrs. Jane Boyd and Mrs. Norma Eddy will entertain parents with their rhythm band. Sewing chairman, Mrs. Ralph Wakehouse and her committee are hard at work on costumes for the forty-five youngsters who will participate.

The 17th district California Parent-Teacher meeting will be held at the Methodist church in Burlingame on February 15th at 10 a.m. and will meet in an all day session. Delegates to the meeting will be Mrs. E. Turney and Mrs. W. Bradshaw, representing Woodrow Wilson.

Three board members have volunteered for blood donations at Mills Memorial Hospital in San Mateo. They are Mrs. K. Atteberry, Mrs. J. Ausano and Mrs. Henry Adami.

Girl Scout Activities

North San Mateo County Girl Scout Federation Studies Plan For Council

By MRS. H. A. HICKEY

The fourth annual meeting of the Federation of Girl Scout Councils of North San Mateo County took place Thursday morning, January 31, at the Orange Avenue recreation center in South San Francisco.

Over 100 leaders and friends of girl scout activities were present to hear and discuss matters relative to girl scouting. Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. Ralph T. Hanna, president of the Federation. General chairman for the occasion was Mrs. Frank Burke.

Of foremost importance on the agenda was a discussion on the conversation of the Federation into an Area Council. Miss Norma Northberg, field advisor, Region 12 National Field Staff and Mrs. Edward Gould, Executive Director, answered questions put to them by members in regard to this important issue.

It has been pointed out that in the formation of a single area council, duplication of effort would be eliminated and one board would serve the total jurisdiction; communities would become districts or neighborhoods. There would be one board meeting monthly, and periodic council meetings, as stated in the constitution and by-laws. Personnel could work in jobs closer to the girls in their own communities, since the council needs but one set of officers.

It has been recommended that continual study go on in relation to joint services, leading ultimately to a single area council by 1952.

Nominating Committee

Following a presentation of the slate for Membership-Nominating Committee of the Federation for 1951, registered members of the organization voted by closed ballot. Elected to serve for a two year period were: Mrs. R. E. Damon, Mrs. Charles H. Carlyle, Mrs. Daniel Kelly, Mrs. John McCoy and Mrs. M. J. Askew. A short adjournment for luncheon followed the voting.

Cookie Drive

Mrs. M. H. Oliva of South San Francisco, serving for the second consecutive year as chairman of the coming cookie sale, outlined plans for the drive which will run from February 12th to February 24th. K. Leonard, South San Francisco, town chairman.

Mrs. Marjorie Reardeau, past treasurer of the Federation was presented with a "thanks badge" by Mrs. Mattrup Jensen for her unstinting efforts on behalf of the girl scout organization.

Camping in 1951

A panel discussion on the expenditure of accrued moneys to further camping was conducted by Mrs. Ellen O'Leary, Mrs. M. R. Oliva and Mrs. John Van Arkle. Proceeds derived from the coming cookie sale will be added to the present funds for camping. This concluded the meeting.

Wedding Bells

Lee Humber Weds Lois Anderson

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Anderson, 67 Crocker, announced today the marriage of their daughter, Lois, to Lee Humber.

The couple were married at a quiet ceremony last Tuesday, January 27. After a short honeymoon, the newlyweds took up residence in San Francisco.

The groom is a native of Alabama, and is now stationed with the navy at Treasure Island.

Lois is a graduate of Jefferson High School, and has many friends in the Daly City area.

Lamps Help Sun To Grow Plants

Light is a limiting factor affecting the growth of plants indoors; but recent experiments have shown how artificial light can be used alone or to supplement whatever sunlight may be available.

Tulips were flowered in dark rooms, lighted solely by incandescent lamps giving 50 foot candles of light for 12 hours each day. Experiments conducted in Canada and Holland gave approximately similar results. The foliage of the tulips was a healthy green and the flowers of normal color.

Amateur

For the amateur, who has a photographic light meter, it will be easy to test the light from his best window, and to determine the supplementary light which he should supply artificially, to insure vigorous growth.

To measure the light that falls on the spot where you plan to set a seed-box, or plant, lay down two sheets of white letter paper, one on top of the other. Hold a Weston master light meter six inches above the paper, being careful not to cast a shadow. Multiply the meter reading by four and you will have approximately the foot-candles of light available to your plants.

Daylight

If daylight provides less than 50 foot-candles for 12 hours a day, then arrange an ordinary electric light to make up the deficit. Remember not to place the lamp so near the box or plant as to raise the temperature unduly. Fluorescent light of equivalent brightness may be used. To produce vigorous plants the light must reach an intensity even applied for longer intervals will probably weaken the growth.

Sunny south windows will usually provide adequate light for indoor seed boxes, but since it comes from one direction it usually causes the seedling plants to incline toward the light. A large white card-board placed behind the seed-box to reflect the sun-light will prevent this bending, and make it unnecessary to turn the box around every day, in order to make the plants grow straight.

Start Seeds

When seeds are started in the home, as soon as sprouts emerge from the soil, the seed box should be placed where they will get adequate light.

Even a day's delay may result in the plants growing tall and "spindly," bending toward whatever light may reach them, seeking for more.

Open House Held At St. Vincent de Paul Thursday

The good that is done with cast-off clothing and used household furnishings will be demonstrated to the public next Thursday afternoon, February 15, when the Society of St. Vincent de Paul hold "Open House" at its headquarters and Thrift Shop, 1815-25 Mission street.

Conducted tours of the Society's three-story building will be made between the hours of 1 and 4 p.m.

Inspect Shop

Not only will visitors have an opportunity to inspect the Thrift Shop, but they will be taken into the Society's workshop as well. Here they will see how toys and furniture are repaired and rebuilt. They will follow the trail of donated merchandise from the time it arrives in the Society's trucks until it is placed on sale.

Finally, they will be shown through the Society's offices and learn what is done with the proceeds of Thrift Shop sales. Every cent of profit is used to help the poor, and the staff of social workers who assist in the Society's work will be on hand to describe the many activities in which they are engaged.

Shelter

The Society maintains a shelter for homeless men, serves free meals to the down and out, provides employment for those who seek to rehabilitate themselves, provides emergency relief for the discouraged, gives burial for indigent inmates of hospitals and institutions, and serves the poor of the community in many additional diverse ways.

Although the Thrift Shop is a primary source of revenue for the support of these charitable activities, Thrift Shop prices are kept extremely low for the benefit of those with limited financial resources.

Slogan

The Society's slogan is "Help Us Help Others." It distributes its charities according to need, without questioning the recipient's color or creed.

The "Open House" will be informal, and the general public is cordially invited to attend. It will be the first time in the Society's history that such an event has been held.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By DIANE DALY

Did anyone else notice the blocks of lighted porches in Daly City last week, which went ignored? Well, let's face it.

Even the Mothers' March of San Francisco (which succeeded largely because of the fine publicity) needed MORE volunteers. Daly City women volunteers are, too often, the SAME ones, and they come in for more than their share. A suburban area, such as ours, needs the help of ALL the women, not the same pressured few. Now how about YOU? Have you done your honest share, or are you letting someone else do it for you, or is the cause lost—blackened out, like the lights which burned to avail?

Little Wendy Mohrman, 5-years-old, of 308 Parkview N., came home several days ago, after her second operation at Shrine Hospital. She is receiving all her little friends in a newly decorated sunny yellow room with colonial furniture and Pennsylvania dutch decor, cleverly painted by her mother.

Reverse Freeze: Visiting here from Kent, Washington, during the Stokely-Camp convention held in Oakland, was Mr. Orville C. Guiles, who formerly resided in Daly City at the home of his sister, Mrs. Richard J. Ennis, 139 Irvington street. Mr. Guiles is now associated in an executive position, with the frozen food division of this company.

Auld Lang Syne: Mailman Jack Cunningham and his lovely wife, entertained many old friends on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary, last Saturday night. The beautifully decorated two-tiered cake, was made by the hostess.

Blowing Their Top: The Broadmoor Roofing Company, dissolving partnership—

Back Again: Mrs. Dan Anderson, Louvaine Drive, Broadmoor, is home after a sojourn with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Courtney of Cotati. Stricken by a sudden illness, Mr. Courtney is now much better.

Crystals: Walter Kettler (big cake and frosting man) returned recently from Yosemite Lodge with Mrs. Kettler and daughter Pat, where they took in some of nature's own frosting.

Star: A new professional addition to Daly City, is Dr. L. J. Richards, former medical officer of the Navy's "Flying Tigers." His colorful experiences and previous practice in Calcutta, Burma and Shanghai, sometimes consisted of work under extreme conditions. Dr. Richards worked for the Chinese government, and set up medical units for the Chinese Central Air Transport, as well as public health units, during the post-war era. Although mentioned in Dr. Seagrave's book, "Burma Surgeon," as well as Chennault's tome on "Flying Tigers," Dr. Richards is nevertheless modest and unassuming, and is a man well acquainted with the most thorough and modern techniques.

He will occupy offices vacated by Dr. Shagohian, who retired recently, due to ill health.

"Pomp N' Circumstance": Among the "grad" crowd, seen dancing at the Fairmont after the various post-commencement activities, were Bert Nottinham and Bill Tienkin, escorting Margaret Laube.

Keeping Up With The Jones: Rivaling those "first-nighters," (The E. P. Jones, of course) are Betty and Al Jones who take in every initial showing at the Serra. Separately, though—Since Betty is assistant manager.

Foursome: Mrs. Ed Nienstiel entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Fox at a dinner on the occasion of her husband's birthday. Late to his own party he was—too!

Westward Ho: Guests of the Robert Johnsons, 1732 Louvaine Drive, Broadmoor, are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Frazier, and son Lynn, who motored from their home in Minnesota on a vacation trip.

Wedding Bells: A beautiful bride was Marie Ahearn, who exchanged vows with Raymond Symington, at the Sunday ceremony at St. Michael's Church, Ocean View. She was becomingly gowned in a Liebes model of white satin, with a point-Venice lace bertha, collar embroidered in seed pearls. Her fingertip veil was held by a matching lace cloches, pearl trimmed, and she carried a bouquet of Lily-of-the-Valley centered with white orchids.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, William. Her mother, Mrs. Livina Ahearn, was at-actively attired in a grey ensemble, with white pique touches. She welcomed guests at the reception, which took place at the George Washington Hall.

Open House: The Fred Bertetta domicile in Westlake was taken over by the Western Firemen, following their twenty-fifth annual banquet, which was held at the Colonial. Co-hostessing the festivities with Mrs. Bertetta were, Mrs. Paul Green, Mrs. Elmer Kennedy, Mrs. James Kennedy and Mrs. Tony Gaggero.

Do-Si-Do: Bill Fear, who is the president of the Daly City Folk Dancers, fell from a scaffolding last week in a freak accident, and suffered superficial, but painful, injuries. Wrong place to practice, Bill!

Sweet Girl Graduate: The charming girl who gave the Salutatory address at Jefferson High's graduation ceremonies, was Lorraine Cady, whose family is well known for their ability. Both her brothers received diplomas from Jeff, and distinguished themselves in athletics, mainly swimming. Gordon, the oldest, is now in the U. S. Navy, while Norman is Northern California swimming champ. Lorraine, herself quite a swimmer, is also interested in dramatics. She played a feature role in the high school presentation of "Stage Door." Best wishes go with her, as she takes up her studies at S. F. State College.

Co-Incidental: On hand for the graduation exercises last week was Mr. Wells Nottingham, retired Naval officer from Wisconsin, and uncle to Bert Nottingham, popular student body president and valedictorian.

Bert, who is planning a naval career, will accompany his uncle back to Wisconsin, and will possibly train at Great Lakes; but as a gift from his proud uncle, they will make an extensive tour, cross-country, taking in Boulder Dam, Carlsbad, and all points of interest.

Meandering on Mission: Mr. Selmi, back at work, after a session at home with a virus infection.

Jane Duncan, Lees Lady Bountiful, frantically feeding pennies into the meters in front of the dispensary. A friend indeed!

Al Speer, bachelor-sportsman around town, being seen everywhere with his new "love"—a new Plymouth.

Bill Pappas, Serra's conscientious manager, fast-talking, and succeeding in getting Walt Disney's "Dumbo" for a Lincoln's Day showing for the kids.

The spirit of St. Nick, very much in evidence, with the ornamental lights not taken down as yet.

Tom Joyce, veteran fireman, all dressed up, wearing a new gold service badge.

Mrs. Frank Lester hobbling about on crutches, after spraining her ankle on—you guessed it—the old car tracks.

En Masque: Folk dancers are invited to a Valentine Mardi-Gras, to be held at Castle Hall, February 10, by the Calico Clickers. Muriele and Raymond Pabst, 132 Oliver Street, popular teachers of this group, accompanied by Hal and Gladys Orth, journeyed to Sonoma, recently at the invitation of the Valley of the "Moon Swingers" to be a banquet and dance.

Militaire: Emerging from the "arch" of crossed swords, held by an honor guard of the Marine Corps, in full dress, was the former Betty Welsh, on the arm of her groom, Corporal Joseph Mathieu.

Our Lady of Perpetual Help church was the setting for the Saturday afternoon nuptials, Father Wm. Stewart officiating. Given in marriage by her brother, Fred, the bride was radiant in beautiful white lace model, featuring a low, rounded neck and a double-ruffled hem. A satin coronet, interwoven with seed pearls, held her elbow-length veil, and she carried a bouquet of bouvardia and narcissus, centered with orchids. Her maid of honor, Miss Helen Caki, was attired in a formal gown of blue taffeta, with blue net ruching, across the neck and shoulders, and wore a transparent grograin hat. She carried carnations. The couple will reside in San Francisco.

Boy Scouts: Since this is Boy Scout Week it would be wise to recall the scouting motto "Be Prepared," and like it to our own horizon.

Civilian Defense: Under the sponsorship of the AWVS and the U. S. Navy, classes are scheduled at the Granada Theatre, 4931 Mission, in emergency food preparation. The classes, which will be held February 8, 15 and 22 from 2 to 4 p.m.,

Children's "Free Art" Course Found Useful

In Elizabeth, New Jersey, a new medium of expression for elementary school has been found.

As reported in Good Housekeeping, that youngsters are given scissors and sheets of gummed colored paper. They create pictures by cutting objects freehand and sticking them on a background. In this way, they learn about color, form, design and composition without the nuisance of spilling or staining.

Besides art classes, this new medium is effective in history and geography projects.

False Alarm Follows Banquet

Yawning, and mumbling unkind words under their breath, Daly City firemen were roused out of bed at 3:45 o'clock Monday morning to answer a false alarm.

The alarm was turned in at Niantic street and Los Banos.

This false alarm followed by 24 hours a momentous meeting of the Veteran Firemen Association Saturday evening. At that time, some 100 firemen attended a banquet in honor of outgoing president, Tom Joyce, and the new president, Jim Welch.

Spirits were high all evening, and about midnight the party shifted to the Westlake home of a veteran fireman and city councilman, Fred Bertetta. Close to the whole "gang" was present, and enjoyed the hospitality of the Bertettas until about 5 o'clock in the morning.

Little wonder, then, that a good many firemen, seeking to catch up on lost sleep, were griping about the character who turned in the false alarm Monday morning.

Bishop Block, whose seat of office is Grace Cathedral on Nob Hill here, will join with eight other members of the Commission in a study of subversive activities both in and out of the Government.

Eight San Francisco Banks Lead Nation

Eight San Francisco banks are listed among the top 300 of the nation's 14,680 banks, according to the "American Banker."

The Bank of America still leads all the nation's banks, with deposits of $6,191,705,871 on Dec. 31, 1950. Other San Francisco banks on the list include American Trust Co., with deposits of $1,018,097,266; Anglo-California National Bank, $607,920,478; Wells Fargo Bank & Union Trust Co., $471,257,933; Bank of California, $352,704,634; Crocker First National Bank, $340,570,640; San Francisco Bank, $297,047,836; Hibernia Bank, $147,307,386.

BAYSHORE VISITACION VALLEY

By Bernice Hendryx JUNiper 4-6449

Les Parker, member of our local water board, was appointed chairman of the board at the meeting held last Tuesday night. Les replaces Vince Morris who presided as temporary chairman of Diamond Public Utilities, following the resignation of Jack Lawson.

The water board has also changed its regular monthly meeting time. In the past, the meeting of Diamond Public Utilities has been held on the first Thursday of each month. The new time will be 7:30 on the first Tuesday of each month.

Our sympathy is extended to Marie J. Morris, wife of Vincent Morris. Mrs. Anna Builhe of 508 Talbert St., passed away last week. Mrs. Builhe, mother of Mrs. Morris, has been a resident of Bayshore for the past eight years.

We are soon to have a new music teacher at Bayshore Elementary School. Mrs. Bitter, present music teacher, is resigning her post at the end of this month. She will be replaced by Margaret Sanfilippo.

Church Events Reverend Widenham, of our Baptist Church, is enroute to Chicago, and from there to Pontiac. A business trip that will absent the Reverend from Bayshore for two weeks.

This Sunday, Irvin T. Grubbs, a missionary speaker, on furlow from India, will conduct both the morning and evening services. Grubbs also will be a speaker at the Conservative Baptist Foreign Missionary Society Bay Area meeting, to be held at Hamilton Square Church on February 13. For those of you who are interested, there will be a nursery service provided for small children.

Here are the final figures on the March of Dimes drive in Bayshore. The elementary school children, by bringing small cards home, collected $109.65 for the March of Dimes. That is a pretty fine showing, and a figure to proud of.

March of Dimes A part of Bayshore also participated in the porch light donation that was a city-wide drive in San Francisco. Mrs. Painchaud and Mrs. Perkowsky made the house to house canvas, wherever they saw a porch light burning, and they collected $60.26 for the drive. They reported that they had been unable to cover the Naval Project in the small amount of time there was, but even at that, they did well. These figures, added to the $35.00 given by the Mr. and Mrs. Club, makes a total of $204.91. This figure doesn't include what was collected from cans that were placed in business buildings, or anything that the large industries gave that would be credited to Bayshore. This is such a vital and worthwhile cause, that it makes

"Smitty" and Mrs. Cahn Head South This Friday

Going south with the well wishes of city hall this Friday will be Mrs. Evelyn Cahn, the city administrator's secretary, and "Smitty," the hall's sanitary engineer.

The couple, who have been business associates for the past two years, will separate at the San Francisco airport. "Smitty" will turn his car around and come back to Daly City for a three day holiday. Mrs. Cahn will continue south to Los Angeles.

Employees of city hall hope both have a very interesting and enjoyable vacation.

Blood Drive

Last Saturday night, the Mr. and Mrs. Club combined a business meeting with a pot-luck dinner and a bingo game. Nice way to while away an evening.

The much talked about Blood Drive in Bayshore, sponsored by our Campfire Girls, will affiliate itself with the large scale bloodmobile drive in Visitacion Valley, at the Community Center. The convenience of the location in Visitacion encouraged the Campfire Girls to believe that a large number of donors could be raised in Bayshore. Our large industries have pledged themselves to the drive, and our different organizations in Bayshore have agreed to cooperate and help in any manner they can.

An added convenience for this drive, will be transportation to the community center, furnished by interested persons in Bayshore.

The delay in contacting residents here, is due to the fact that we have been waiting for a definite date to be set by Visitacion. The tentative date at present is February 28 but until it is made official, pledge cards are not available for this particular drive. The definite date will be set within the next day or so, and we'll have it for the next issue of the paper.

Grace Presbyterian Men Meet Monday

A meeting of the men of the Grace Presbyterian Church is scheduled this Monday evening, February 12.

The meeting will get underway at 6:45 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall. Dr. Paul Buchholz of San Francisco will be the guest speaker.

Several films are to be shown. Pastor William Harberts noted the meeting is for the men of the community, and fathers are asked to bring their sons.

"Who cooks the dinner is a deep secret," Pastor Harberts said, "but we promise a real repast... Grace Church style."

Novel Type Of Staging To Be Employed In Jefferson High Winter Production

Central staging is the unique stage arrangement to be used in the Jefferson High School winter play, "Family Circle" which will be presented March 1 and 2 at the school auditorium.

In this type of theatre the acting area is in the center of the hall, and the audience sits on all sides. This allows for an intimacy between the actors and the audience which is very desirable in comedy production.

This also limits the audience to 200, which in turn makes every seat the "best seat in the house" both for hearing and seeing.

Popular Staging

On the west coast this type of theatre has proved very popular. At the University of Washington the same type of productions have been given since 1932. And in 1939 a specially built theatre was opened for this type of show.

During the war a Circle Theatre was opened in Los Angeles, and is now one of the more popular group theatres.

Cornelia Otis Skinner is known and loved wherever there is appreciation of the theatre. "Family Circle" is a fine dramatization of her book about life and her family.

In the Jefferson production Cornelia will be played by Beverly Bendinelli; and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Skinner, by Ronald Quint and Mary Lou Niomis. Janice Sproule will play the part of Mab, Cornelia's dear friend. Cornelia's boy friend, Charlie, will be played by Bob Kalinin.

Others in the cast include: Joan Gordolin, Shirley McIntyre, Don Benando, Joan deVane, Ario Goegoin and Gary Larson.

Annual Founders' Day To Be Observed At Burlingame Church Next Thursday

Gracious custom and inspirational leadership will be honored by the annual Founders Day observance of Seventeenth District California Congress of Parents and Teachers at the Burlingame Methodist church of Howard avenue and El Camino Real with the theme "Light and Mellow."

Program chairman is Mrs. Fawn Tuske of Burlingame, and Mrs. G. J. Sirex of San Carlos, district president, is to open the morning session on Thursday, February 15, at 10 a.m.

Mrs. Harvey S. Dye of Whittier, sixth vice-president of the C.C.P.T. and home service director, will speak on the theme, as P.T.A. begins its fifty-fourth year of service nationally this month. Founders Day local P.T.A. extension gifts from the seventy-one associations in San Mateo county will be presented in a ceremony at unit roll call.

Awards Award of three honorary life memberships for the district are to be made just before the noon hour by Mrs. Roland K. Abercrombie of San Mateo, chairman. These awards for outstanding community contributions are eagerly awaited, since they come as a surprise to the honored recipients and to the district membership as well.

Afternoon will feature the special plans of Mrs. Tuska, Founders Day chairman, for music by P.T.A. members and the introduction of guests. Included are past presidents from Mrs. L. G. Owen of Redwood City for 1927-1928, to Mrs. J. M. Foley of San Mateo for 1948-1950; the former honorary life members; and the district advisory group—who will all be presented to further the theme, "Light and Mellow," a highlighted day, mellowed by memories.

Election

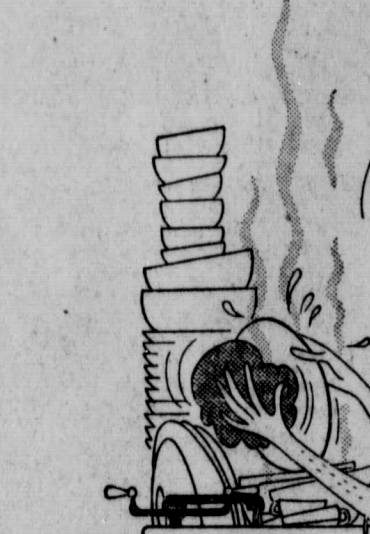

Election of a nominating committee to represent all sections of the county will be an important part of regular business. Luncheon reservations are due on or before Monday, February 12, to Mrs. Erwin Schmidt of Daly City, Mrs. Roy Jaeger of San Mateo, and Mrs. Charles Byram of Redwood City.

zler, A. Anker, Walter Kesler, A. Gensel, Gene Andrus and William Harberts. Mrs. Einar Hanson will be organist.

The offering is to be used for Christian education among the American Indians, peoples of the rural south, Christian literature for women and children in foreign countries; and education of Christian leaders in interdenominational Christian colleges in the Orient.

The public is invited to attend the Friday service.

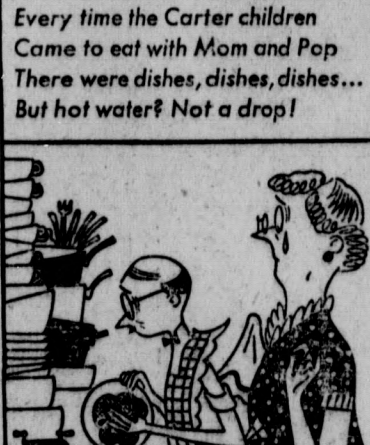

"Plenty of hot water sure makes a difference, doesn't it?"

Every time the Carter children came to eat with Mom and Pop there were dishes, dishes, dishes... But hot water? Not a drop!

They invested, now they're happy Water's HOT for every job Work is lighter, even washing Dishes for their hungry mob!

Then one day the Carter Seniors Stopped to see a dealer who Showed them what a water heater Of the proper size would do.

Now's the time to replace that worn-out or too-small water heater. Remember! New automatic laundries and dishwashers require more hot water than ever. And the new automatic gas water heaters can supply it... 24 hours a day... for only a few pennies. Your dealer will demonstrate their superior insulation, greater efficiency, streamlined appearance. Have him chart your hot water needs. You'll find the modern gas water heater a good investment... for many years to come.

Good hot water costs very little here in Northern and Central California because P. G. and E. gas rates are among the lowest in the nation.

Former Mayor Recalls Local History

In Letter To Editor, H. H. Smith Advocates City Change Name To Westlake

January 29, 1951

Editor
The Record
Daly City, California
Dear Sir:

During a recent sojourn in Mexico—where the sun shines brightly at this time of the year and the thermometer registers from 80 to 85 degrees daily there was no evidence of anything but a world of peace, security, happiness and good will among men.

Under the serenity of that setting my thoughts went back over the years and more especially to an idea and a plan that I have had in mind for some time and I wrote you a letter in reference thereto and suggesting your newspaper as the logical means of creating interest in this plan. However, my desire to give the matter further thought prompted me to delay mailing the letter.

My thought is that a history of the area which now constitutes Daly City would be of much interest, not only to the people currently residing here but also to those who might elect to establish their homes here in the future. When such a record would be brought up to date it could be kept so with little effort.

Change The Name
As another suggestion, why not make it a history of Daly City to date and a history of Westlake from here on? In other words, I feel that a mistake will be made and a good bet overlooked if steps are not now taken to change the city's name to Westlake. By so doing we would profit by the practically worldwide publicity that would be given to the city under that name, whereas Daly City is seldom if ever mentioned in the intensive publicity of Westlake, a part of the city.

In addition to what could be found in the minutes and records of public bodies — improvement club, political, patriotic and Church organizations, Chamber of Commerce, Merchants' Associations, Vigilance Committees and what not—stories from old timers would contribute much to early day history and if a history of the area is to be written, the sooner the better as those early settlers are gradually passing on.

Many Lessons
In the story of Daly City there would be many valuable and influential lessons of just what can be overcome and accomplished in community development and government when there is a cooperative spirit and especially when there is intense interest on the part of the citizenry in general, a state of affairs so little in evidence these days and so much needed. I wish to compliment and thank you for your articles calling attention to just such a situation in our city now and urging more interest on the part of our people.

The history of the Daly City Fire Department would be a story of accomplishments, cooperation, neighborliness, helpfulness and devotion to duty that would undoubtedly be an inspiration to anyone reading it. It might well be said that the Fire Department was the government of this community previous to the time when it was incorporated as a Sixth Class City in 1911. The entire story of the building of Daly City would be so symbolic and representative of the same spirit and courage that built America that I feel sure it would provide locally here at home a much needed example and inspiration.

Recalls Fire
When the San Francisco earthquake and fire of 1906 left a great number of people homeless and many of them with few or no personal possessions, the northern part of San Mateo County offered a haven. Here owners of vegetable and dairy farms subdivided their holdings into 25 foot lots shortly after the earthquake and offered them for sale sometimes for $10.00 down and $10.00 per month and without interest. The facts that there were neither schools, churches, an adequate water supply or system, no improved government head, no places of assembly nor any of the other conveniences and necessities that go to make a well-rounded-out community left those who decided to establish their homes here undaunted.

In fact, they seemed to enjoy the situation and the opportunities to do for themselves, to serve their fellow man and they demonstrated their willingness to do so in no uncertain manner. The city of today is a fitting monument to those pioneers to whom hardships, inconveniences and handicaps served only to tighten the bonds between them as they gladly and courageously did their parts to make life mutually more pleasant and less difficult.

Down Mexico Way
As I sat there on the veranda at the old Mexican hacienda (a veranda twelve feet wide and one hundred ten feet long) watching wild doves and wild pigeons flying about like flies I had no thought of stepping inside the door and picking up my shotgun to bag a limit; it was too easy to do to be interesting. I compared my attitude with that of the times when I have driven hundreds of miles to get a limit of doves or a few pigeons and when the scarcer the game and the smaller the limit the farther I drove, the harder I hunted, and the prouder I was when I came home with a few birds.

That to me summed up what is wrong with our country today. When America was being built as well as when Daly City was being built and the job was hard to do, all seemed interested and willing to help to build it greater and better. Now that everything comes easy we see not only evidence of a disinterest on the part of the people as a whole but even a callous and careless indifference to intellectual and moral dishonesty in government that is alarming.

Another Example
As another example to substantiate my thoughts that things hard to get are more appreciated I went away back in the years to 1890, my first school year. The distance to school was many miles. There were morning and late afternoon chores at home. There were none of the present plan of spending thousands of dollars for busses so we would not have to walk and then spending hundreds of thousands to provide facilities at school so we could get exercise. We did not need five acres for every so many children and an acre for every so many more.

That education being hard to get was evidently appreciated can be judged by my own experience. I finished nine grades in six years, never was late one morning, and continuously stayed at the head of the class. Why? Getting an education the hard way made it worthwhile. The desire I had to go further in school could not be fulfilled as there were no high schools within attendance distance.

Children Change
Youngsters in those days learned to work and to be industrious at the same time that they acquired their school learning, and I realize now that had I not learned to work before I was eighteen years of age, as is often the case with youngsters of today, I would most likely have found it as difficult and distasteful to start to learn to work as to start to school at that age.

I remember well the hard times of the 1890's and they were really hard times, but they meant nothing more to the people of those days than tightening their belts, working a little harder and getting along with less until conditions righted themselves. Regardless of how low wages were, it seemed they found a way to put aside a little of that wage, a situation too seldom observed now even among those who now make more than double in one day what workers in those days made in a month. In other words, people then were self-reliant, mutually helpful, and courageous and they sacrificed and adjusted themselves to meet the situation. There were no laws in those days to relieve individuals of the responsibility of their own welfare.

Lucky Man
My thoughts again drifted back to our own community and city and to a realization of the luck I had in being engaged in the type of business in San Francisco in 1907 that brought me in contact with this district and with the pioneers who were to build it into the great city that it is today. That con-fact came about through my being in the teaming business and contracting with various occupants of the so-called "refugee shack" that had been provided for them by the American Red Cross in San Francisco and who desired to move them to this vicinity.

While I did not have a refugee shack to move for myself, there were reasons and inducements for me to also become a resident of this area and build a small home and engage in a small business, that of second hand lumber and wood and coal. When I say a small business I mean just that.

When one of my partners tired of the required long hours of work and seven days a week, we took inventory and found his interest to be worth $135.00 for which sum I purchased it. However, the reality of the inducement for my moving to this community was in the fact that I realized that I would again be among the kind of people with whom I had spent the early part of my life in the Napa Valley—honest, hard working, industrious and high principled men and women, whereas in the teaming business in the big city I was in contact with people whose thoughts were on entirely different lines as evidenced by the fact that usually anything lying loose quickly disappeared. This state of affairs existed even to the extent that when going to lunch I had to carry everything loose on my wagon or truck with me into the lunch counter or find myself without it when I returned to work.

Keen Pleasure
I share with all other pioneers a keen pleasure and satisfaction in having helped to contribute something to the job that was done. Happy indeed are the memories of my seventeen years as a volunteer fireman, serving part time as Fire Commissioner and as Chief of the Fire Department, of my membership and Chairmanship in most every organization in this community throughout those years, of my seven years as a member of the County Social Service Commission with its interest in those who needed help at that time, and there were many, of my four years as a member of the County Planning Commission, the nine terms or eighteen years during which I had the honor to serve as Mayor of our City and of the four years I served as the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of San Mateo County. The memories of all those and other opportunities to serve and make a contribution to the development of the present city are some of the happiest of my life.

Outstanding
Outstanding among those happy memories are those of the opportunity, privilege and honor of being associated for many years with a city administration composed of men and women, the quality, ability and character of whom would be seldom equalled and surely never excelled in any city or business administration in the entire country. One would have had to be in touch with such an organization and such people to understand to any degree and fully appreciate the efforts they put forth to conduct our city in such a splendid manner and so befitting the type and class of people they represented, and the pleasure it could be to work with them.

If there was ever a nickel of dishonesty or any evidence of a lack of intention to place the interests of the city and the people ahead of everything else, I never knew of it. That they were successful in their endeavors is shown by the fact that state records show that Daly City's government was then conducted at about 40 per cent of the cost of government in other cities of like size in California. Our city in those days was always referred to as the "White Spot" in San Mateo County and I assure you that it is not with pleasure that I now hear it referred to as being just the opposite.

Old Fashioned
I know that the thoughts and the views I have expressed here will be regarded as old fashioned by the people with the modern thoughts of today, but I am not ashamed of them. Old fashioned ideas and principles built Daly City. Old fashioned ideas and principles were responsible for the rise of America. New ideas, those of today and this generation, and the moral recession we are now in, if continued, will be responsible for its fall. Everyone knows that it is the moral degeneration of democracies which contributes most to their fall, with laws that relieve individuals of their responsibility for their own welfare also playing an important part.

I am so far behind the times and so old fashioned as to believe that those who seek and obtain public office on a pretense of doing a job honestly and fairly and then fail to do so are guilty of treasonable acts. Treason is defined as "betrayal of allegiance to government" and since the government is the people and the people are the government my thoughts along those lines seem quite in order.

Opposition
I also believe that handsome gifts, lavish entertainment, profitable real estate deals and such by special interests to their political and enforcement friends are not in the public interest, and the good-natured tolerance of such by our

Governor Approves Salary Increases

FEB. 8.—(CNS)—Two assembly bills calling for a salary increase for state employees and authorizing the state personnel board to set up a system of "duration appointments" during war or national emergency, were signed today by Governor Warren.

The pay increase bill provides $3,679,652 to defray cost of salary increases determined by the state personnel board during the current fiscal year.

The second bill is designed to fill a shortage of workers in state departments occasioned by competent workers being lost to the military services and permits the board to terminate such appointments within a minimum of three months and a maximum of one year.

Both are urgency measures, the salary increase being retroactive to January 1.

Funeral services will be held from the W. C. Lasswell & Co. chapel Friday at 10:30 a.m. for Mrs. Della Beal, 59, 34 Rice street, who died in Community Hospital Wednesday.

She is survived by her widower, Sloan Beal; a brother, C. E. Gann of Arroyo, California; a niece, Virginia Buranian of Santa Clara; a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris; and a grandson, Donald Harris.

Interment will be at the Odd Fellows Cemetery in Santa Rosa.

FEB. 8.—(CNS)—One of the important legislative problems which will confront California solons when they return to Sacramento March 12 will be the matter of annexations of territory on the fringe areas of cities.

Probably no subject can call up more differences of opinion, and sometimes bitterness, than annexation. Frequently residents of cities move to the fringe areas to escape city taxes, and also what they believe is wastefulness on the part of existing city administrations.

Once moved, they suddenly find themselves confronted with an annexation vote and usually, it is at this point, that the fun begins. Elections are contested bitterly, sometimes won, sometimes lost.

Example
An annexation election of this character recently occurred in the area south of the city of Sacramento, which may have a direct bearing on the future of annexations all through the state. The election involves an assemblyman, John E. Moss, of Sacramento, who lives in the fringe area.

Moss, although never stating whether he was for or against annexation for public consumption, privately admitted to some residents of the district that he was very much in favor of going into the city of Sacramento. Later, after anti-annexationists won the battle by the small margin of 53 votes, it developed that Moss' Brother Henry intends to open up a new subdivision in the area.

Defeat Scored
And on top of this, Moss has introduced a bill in the legislature cutting the time in half for a new vote on annexation matters after a defeat is scored. Under present terms of the law, no action on annexation can be taken for twelve months after a defeat. Moss would cut this to six months through his assembly bill.

For all practical purposes, including the matter of assessments for subsequent taxation and to avoid double taxation, annexation of the particular area in which Moss is involved, the subject could not be brought up again until the fall of 1952. Yet if Moss' bill should pass, opponents would be called upon probably in the fall of 1951 to go through another expensive campaign to determine whether this particular area should annex to the city.

Other Steps
Other measures are before the legislature which would permit the "fringe" areas to secure municipal services without the necessity either of incorporating or annexing to a nearby city.

Assemblyman Thomas E. Caldecott, of Berkeley, said bills permitting formation of districts which would supply all such services, including water, sewers, streets, drainage, lighting, garbage, etc., are before the legislature.

Under terms of these bills, Caldecott said, the county board of supervisors would act as the administrative body for the district and work out the details for combining existing districts, arranging for an advisory group in the area and in general, overseeing the administrative matters that are necessary to the extension of such services.

Caldecott said he does not know as yet how this type of district would function as far as the taxpayers' pocketbook is concerned, but under such a district, the people would be assured, at least, of securing the services for which the taxpayers contribute. No such assurances come with annexation, when it is frequently a matter of many years before full municipal services reach the annexed territory.

Indian reservations occupy more than one-fourth of the entire area of the State of Arizona.

Eagles Celebrate 53rd Anniversary This Thursday

Colma-Vista Grande Aerie No. 1848 is participating locally in the 53rd anniversary celebration of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, it was announced today by Reginald Calvert, President of the Aerie.

The anniversary is being observed nationally by the presentation of the Eagles' National Civic Award to the Lambs Club of New York City in recognition, not only of the charitable and humanitarian activities of the Lambs, but also of the great contributions made throughout the years by all people of the amusement world—stage, screen, radio, and television.

Worthy President Calvert stated that this recognition is also being given to the people of the entertainment world because the first founding fathers of the Eagles were all theatrical performers, and the first regular meeting was held in a theater in Seattle, Washington, with the stage as the lodge room. The early organization work of the Order was carried on by people of the theater, particularly the first Grand Worthy President, John Cort, a theatrical man.

In conjunction with the 53rd anniversary of the Grand Aerie, Colma-Vista Grande Aerie is celebrating its 42nd anniversary with its annual Old Timers Night dinner tonight (February 8) during which veteran pins will be presented to members who have been in the local order forty and twenty years respectively.

A large class of new candidates will be initiated during the evening.

NEW STYLE OF RADIO PROGRAMMING RECEIVES POPULAR APPROVAL

Following the announcement from the Progressive Broadcasting System that its program service would be suspended January 31, KVSM instituted a new policy of Popular-Western music from sunrise to sunset.

More and more radio stations are featuring this type of music, because of the popularity and tremendous success of such records as "Tennessee Waltz," an all-time best seller, "My Heart Cries For You," and last year's best seller, "Slipping Around." Western tunes are consistently among the top three or four tunes on the Hit Parade.

The initial response to KVSM's new program policy, in the nature of numerous letters and telephone calls has already, within the first week, demonstrated its popular favor in the Bay Area.

Lynne Boskey Discovers New Scalp Remedy

This is a bit of good news for the ladies. If you suffer from dandruff and itchy scalp, Lynne Boskey, of the Daly City Beauty Shoppe, 6315 Mission st., has uncovered an all but sure-fire remedy.

Says Lynne, "I have my fingers crossed, for we all know that nothing is 100 per cent effective. Nevertheless, my new treatment hasn't failed to satisfy this far."

"Of course, you know medical men assert that dandruff and the accompanying itchy head is caused by a particular germ. I believe this new preparation is giving a deadly battle to that germ."

Lynne also made known that she has several new hair does to go along with permanents, especially prepared for the oncoming Valentine holidays.

Office Is Set Up To Answer Wage Ceiling Questions

All offices of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions have been designated by Cyrus S. Ching, wage stabilization board chairman, to assist the national board in handling wage stabilization inquiries. These offices will be prepared to answer questions regarding the wage stabilization program.

John R. Dille, regional director for the Divisions in the eight Western states, announced today in San Francisco that personnel of the Divisions in California, Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington have a supply of the wage orders already issued by the wage stabilization board and have been briefed on the intent of each.

Officials of companies and unions in this area are urged by Director Dille to send their inquiries to C. O. Atchinson, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Division, U. S. Department of Labor, 150 Federal Office Building, San Francisco.

"We are prepared to supply answers to inquiries dealing with Regulations Nos. 1 through 4 Director Dille said. "As fast as additional policies, regulations and procedures are worked out in Washington, the information will be passed on immediately to all Wage-Hour offices."

"In the meantime, unions and companies can assist materially by directing their inquiries to the nearest Wage-Hour office, rather than sending them to the national board at Washington, in order for the national board to be as free as possible to dispose of the problems before it."

IRON-NICKEL BASE ALLOYS
Utilization of the iron-nickel base alloys with special magnetic and thermal expansion characteristics for control devices and radar electronic and communications equipment continued on a steadily expanding scale during 1950. Nickel is an essential constituent of these alloys in amounts varying from 22 to 80 per cent.

Radio stations have featured special western programs occasionally, but the new policy on KVSM marks the first time a Bay Area station has gone all-out western. However, KVSM has emphasized that its western records have been carefully chosen, with an ear to smooth listening—just smooth and easy-to-listen-to western all day long, with five minutes of news, on the hour, every hour.

People in all walks of life, when asked to account for their preference for smooth western radio programming, explain its popularity by the fact that it puts them in a happy, relaxed frame of mind as they go about their work, humming these captivating tunes.

KVSM is a daytime station, 1050 on the dial, operating from sunrise to sunset, seven a.m. to six p.m. during February. However, KVSM's management announces that the station expects to have permission to operate during the night-time hours as well within the next year.

Social Security Now Covers Many Self-Employed

Many self-employed persons are now brought under social security for old-age and survivors insurance, according to Edward J. Foley, manager of the San Mateo Social Security Office.

This new coverage acts two ways. First, those who are self-employed (excepting certain professional groups) will report the amount of their earnings when making their income tax report early in 1952, covering 1951. The social security tax of 2 1/4 per cent will also then be paid, and the earnings credited to their accounts or future benefit payments.

Second, those now receiving monthly social security payments who net over $50.00 a month from such self-employment should notify the office, as their payments should be stopped while having such earnings. (This does not apply to anyone 75 or older, however.)

"Because of differing situations," Mr. Foley said, "those having self-employment income expected to average over $50.00 a month in 1951, and who receive monthly payments through our office, should get in touch with us if not certain that this applies to them. We can then advise them of the proper course to take. If notice is not given until the end of the year, the benefits collected must be repaid then, so it is better all around that the benefit account be kept up to date."

The San Mateo office is at 42 North B Street, and is open from 9:15 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Publishers Tackle Their Problems

The editors and publishers of a large number of California newspapers, both dailies and weeklies, are meeting in Sacramento this week (Feb. 8-11) to wrestle with the problems that confront their kind.

For newspapers and newspapermen have all the problems that beset most businesses, and many others besides. They get together in small regional groups frequently throughout the year to talk shop; then, once a year, they come together at the annual convention of the California Newspaper Publishers Association, the meeting in Sacramento this week, for an overall, statewide look at their situation.

Some of the problems besetting the publishers this year are a growing scarcity of newsprint, the paper on which your newspaper is printed; astronomically mounting costs of all kinds for materials and services that enter into the production of a newspaper; and shortages, actual and prospective, of the kinds of talents and skills it takes to get out a newspaper.

When you hear the thud of the newspaper in front of your door or you take it out of your mailbox, you are receiving proof that your publisher has licked his problems, for today or for this week at least, perhaps with the aid of something he learned at a CNPA convention. And you can bet he is already wrestling with the problems of tomorrow's or next week's paper, be it a practical production problem or the preservation of the freedom of the press.

Your publisher knows what you expect of your newspaper and he is ever-lastingly working to meet your expectations.

INCO ALLOYS

General advances in all fields of industry during 1950 have been reflected in the expanding uses of malleable nickel and the high nickel alloys such as Monel and Inconel. This expansion has been noted in normal peace-time industry prior to the beginning of defense programs.

POW'S May Claim Diet Payments

The last call for former prisoners of war and civilian internees, or their surviving next-of-kin, to submit applications under the War Claims Act is being sounded by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer, San Mateo county.

The deadline for submission of applications for payment on account of substandard diet in World War II enemy prison camps is March 1, Granger emphasizes, and there is little or no likelihood of an extension of that date. In fact, he pointed out, the original filing deadline was in 1948, and the present date is itself an extension.

At the same time, ex-prisoners and others who have already filed claims were advised to check with the Veterans Service Office, Court-house, Redwood City, before writing to the War Claims Commission about them. In some cases a follow-up letter will help, but in others it will only result in additional delay in processing of the claim, he explained.

Under the War Claims Act, a member of the armed forces in World War II who was held prisoner by the Axis is entitled to payment at the rate of $1 for each day he was in enemy hands. The same law provides for compensating civilian internees. If the prisoner or internee has died, either before or after his release, his surviving next-of-kin may be eligible for the payment.

The payments are made out of funds realized from seized enemy assets.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOLS

CROCKER

Room 2
The following fifth grade students in room 2 had perfect attendance for the past month: Carmen Bria, Dana Donham, Loren Faber, Pilar Girrudo, Doris Melendez, Rueben Martinez, Lorraine McTee, Richard Reagan, Robert Romer, James Wilson, and Wilma Tholen.

The sixth grade has been making Valentine decorations for their room. They have decorated the windows and are looking forward to Friday, as on that day they are going to make fancy Valentines to decorate the border around the room.

Room 3
The fifth grade in room 3 has been learning to subtract fractions. They are also well into their study of the westward movement of the early pioneers in our country.

Room 4
The A.M. session of the sixth grade in room 4 recently made Valentine decorations for an art project. Red and white paper hearts in various sizes were cut out. These were then pasted together to form heart-like figures. These were then mounted on the pinning board to form a colorful border.

The afternoon session of the sixth grade in Room 4 has finished the required work in spelling and are reviewing for the mid-term final test.

They have finished the work on Central America and the West Indies and will soon be ready to begin their work on Canada.

Clifford Greek, George Bullwinkle, and Lauren Pottinger spent the weekend at Camp Lillenthal in Marin County. They gave an excellent report of their trip to the language class.

Room 5
The eighth grade in room 5 is learning how to change Fahrenheit thermometer readings to those of the Centigrade thermometer and vice versa.

In history, the class is reviewing the colonization of the New World. In art, the work is on perspective drawings, which seem interesting and fascinating even to those who do not care for the other types of art work.

The students of the seventh grade are studying per cents and are learning to find the ratio of two numbers.

The Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act directs the Secretary of Labor to set prevailing minimum wages for industries affected by this law.

There's Limestone In Them Thar Hills

FEB. 8.—(CNS)—San Mateo County is rich in Calera limestone but poor exposures and discontinuity of the deposits make it difficult to determine the amount of limestone available, the State Division of Mines said today.

A survey conducted by geologists on the staff of the division has shown that total reserves of the area are large and of commercial value but considerable additional exploration will be necessary before a correct estimate of all reserves is possible.

Masses of limestone crop out from a northwest line bisecting the San Francisco peninsula from Calera Valley southward along Cahil Ridge to a point west of Crystal Springs Lake.

The limestone belt is tapped by good roads from San Francisco, San Mateo and Redwood City and access to the heavier deposits is simple. The belt crops out lower down the peninsula in Santa Clara county where there are also heavy deposits, the division states. These peninsula formations date back to the Jurassic Age.

Limestone is invaluable in the manufacture of cement and concrete, and a valuable asset to San Mateo county.

Humboldt Bay is one of California's four major harbors.

State Legislature

State Senate Interim Report To Set Pattern Of Legislation For 1951

SACRAMENTO—Feb. 8. (CNS) A Senate Interim Committee report, which in all probability will set the pattern of legislation for the 1951 session, was ready for the legislature today.

In an exhaustive study of the import of changes in economic activity on state revenue and expenditures, the committee on state and local taxation makes recommendations for no new taxes at the state level, but suggests serious consideration be given the problem of additional sources of tax revenue for counties.

It also points out new services, like civilian defense, will absorb most of "the inflation-engendered gains in tax yield for the state," which officials expect will swell revenues this year.

Member Named

The committee is headed by Senator Ben Hulse, of Imperial county. Other members are Senators Clarence C. Ward, Santa Barbara, vice-chairman; Harry L. Parkman, San Mateo; Harold J. Powers, Modoc, and Hugh M. Burns, Fresno. The Hulse Committee generally is considered the final authority on matters of state taxation.

"To provide long overdue tax relief to property owners, and to meet the needs for increased county revenues without further burdening property taxpayers, the committee recommends that county sources of tax revenue be extended beyond the narrow confines of the property tax base," the report says.

More Taxes

Already the County Supervisors' Association has suggested an additional cent on the sales tax, half to go to counties, and half to cities which already have sales taxes.

The committee's recommendations are extensive, and cover seven points with regard to state taxation and expenditures. In brief, they are:

1. That the legislature refuse passage to all proposals designed to remove or liberalize existing eligibility qualifications for old age assistance. (This would mean either defeat or no action on George McLain's constitutional amendment to liberalize pension payments and its submission to the people in 1952.)

2. That the legislature refuse all proposals to liberalize and expand amounts of financial assistance now received by the aged, whether "across the board," or "open end" increases.

Proposals

3. That all proposals for aiding the permanently and totally disabled be examined carefully and if granted, such aid be given only to those who legitimately merit and deserve it.

4. That the legislature take immediate steps to remedy deficiencies in the program of aid to needy children to insure that the department of social welfare will interpret the law with respect to legislative intent.

5. That programs of aid to the aged, blind and needy children be provided entirely by the federal government with uniform grants of financial assistance to all states.

Report Quoted

"The more liberal financial assistance provided these cases in California, coupled with the desirable and favorable aspects of living in this state have resulted in an unfair distribution among the states, and an unfair tax burden on the citizens of California," the report says.

6. That no changes be made in the present methods whereby state funds are apportioned to public schools; that minimum aid now in the law be retained. (Efforts are being made to enlarge the foundation allotments to the schools.)

7. With regard to capital outlays, the committee recommends that state and local spending be restricted to completion of projects already under way; that "pay-as-you-go" and "pay-as-you-use" building plans would be inadvisable. (This recommendation hits proposed public works bond issues before the legislature, and also the plan of the administration to lease buildings from private insurance companies.)

No Expansion

"Regardless of financing methods employed," says the report, "the committee feels that further expansion of capital outlays would be decidedly unwise in view of the economic and fiscal uncertainties of the nation, and hence, facing the state and its political subdivisions."

The recommendations are made, the report said, "in the interests of keeping the state and local units of government in California on a sound financial basis through prudent management of the public purse in the uncertain years ahead, and in the interest of encouraging, through adoption of sound tax and spending policies on the state and local level, a continuation of the great economic development which California has experienced."

High Income

The recommendations pointed out that during the next year, higher levels of income will be ac-

Red Cross Has Speakers Ready

Mrs. Henry Boos, chairman of the Speakers Bureau of the San Mateo County Chapter of American Red Cross announces that the bureau is now ready to supply speakers for all organizations on compared by higher levels of prices and higher federal income taxes.

"These trends," the report said, "indicate clearly the inadvisability of imposing heavier tax burdens on the people."

Rising levels of prices, incomes and employment, the report points out, will swell state revenues, but on the other hand, inflation will bring equally large increases in the cost of providing State Service.

Three State Power Line Ordered For Defense

FEB. 8.—(CNS)—Immediate construction of a 230,000 volt transmission line linking Klamath Falls, Oregon, and Shasta Dam as a vital civil defense measure, was ordered this week by the United States Department of the Interior, Richard L. Boke, regional director of the bureau of reclamation, announced here today.

The new line will link generating plants of the Pacific Northwest with hydro and steam generating plants in California, providing additional power to defense industries spread from Washington and Oregon to the Colorado river basin area.

The project, which will take two years to complete, will provide needed power without the expense of constructing additional generating plants, Boke said.

During seasonal high water and off peak periods, power from the Columbia river would be supplied to California while power from hydro and steam generators in California would be available in the northwest when these generators are not operating at peak loads.

Defense industries will be dependent upon uninterrupted power amounting to 300,000 watts and additional sources must be found. Through the new transmission line it is believed a saving of 730,000 barrels of oil annually will be effected.

The Government expects to realize 965,000 revenue annually from an investment of $6,269,000. Sur-

FEB. 8.—(CNS)—California has 16,144 barbers but fewer are taking examinations for state licenses these days, James A. Arnerich, director of professional and vocational standards has informed Gov-

Four transcontinental bus lines converge on San Francisco.

There are more than two hundred oil wells in Kings County. The western half of Sierra County contains 45 mile-high lakes.

Applications to take the state examination totaled 40 last month as compared to 55 in December, 1949, while only 25 took the test and 20 passed.

Ready Market Offered Farmers

FEB. 8.—(CNS)—Vegetable and fruit growers in San Mateo County will find a ready market for their crops this year, for canneries will be busier than at any time since the past war processing food for military and civilian needs.

The armed forces, growing daily, will buy heavily this year and civilians will want more due to a tightening of controls on credit and consumer goods.

A shortage of dairy supplies is also expected, according to agricultural experts here, who state people have been using increased supplies of manufactured dairy products this winter and butter and cheese have been withdrawn from stocks faster than ever before.

Federal stocks of cheese have been cleaned out and government butter stocks are practically exhausted.

Use of bottle milk is expected to increase because consumers will have more money to spend on food due to controls.

Higher prices for manufactured dairy products are expected next year due to rising costs of production and the increased demand.

The price freeze is believed to be temporary and few rollbacks are expected because such rollbacks would upset the nation's economy. Ceilings are expected to be worked out on a dollar and cents basis soon.

Farm products are expected to be affected little by the freeze and there is room for increases on many commodities.

Cub Pack No. 84 Observes National Boy Scout Week

Noting National Boy Scout Week, members of Broadmoor Cub Pack No. 84 this week have a display of their handicraft in the window of Carter's Men Store.

All of the handicraft is work of members of the Pack, and is a "ruler" of the type of activities carried on by the boys throughout the year.

In addition, the Pack will take part in the North District Scouting parade and jamboree to be held in South San Francisco February 10.

Plans for both these events were made at the regular meeting of the Pack January 31. Den No. 1 was in charge.

Featured guest of the evening was Ronald Forney, better known as "Forney The Fake." At 12-years-old, Ronald is the country's youngest member of the "Magician's Association." He put on a splendid show of magic which was greeted with much applause by both cubs and their parents.

Following the show, awards were given to:

Stanley Pierce, Scott Parker, bear; Dan Anderson, lion; Jim Gustafson, silver arrow and wolf; Ted Cyr, Ricky Gomez, Howard McKee, silver arrow; Charles Merrow, gold and silver arrows; Bob Noll, gold arrow on wolf badge; Bill McCann, gold arrow; Bill Spry, silver arrow; Barry Beinner, silver arrow; Dave Drotar, Tim Buckley, Ronney Baird, John Auanzino, bobcat.

Firms covered by the Federal wage and hour law are required to display an official U. S. Department of Labor poster explaining the minimum wage and overtime pay provisions.

The amended Federal wage and hour law continues to exempt workers employed by retail and service establishments from the minimum wage and overtime pay provisions.

That Mushroom May Kill You

FEB. 8.—(CNS) — Unless you are sure the mushroom you plan to eat is non poisonous, it had better be left alone, State Director of Agriculture A. A. Brock said today.

Due to abnormal rains mushrooms have come into prominence, Brock said, and the State Department of Agriculture has received many requests for information as to how to correctly identify the edible varieties.

This identification is not simple. Many are identical in structure but the poisonous varieties cause severe illness or death.

There is no infallible test, said Brock, as to which are poisonous and the "silver coin" test and whether the skin of the cap peels or not are not reliable in determining if the mushroom is edible.

The only safe rule for collectors is to know positively the identification of the species, to collect only those he knows are non poisonous, and to avoid all other types. If he is uncertain he should avoid collecting, handling and eating the variety.

STYLE AND POWER FEATURED IN 1951 CHRYSLERS

The 1951 Chrysler New Yorker Newport with new fender line that accentuates its low sleek beauty, and massive front-end that signifies the power and luxury of the new Chrysler line.

Interior of the 1951 Chrysler New Yorker Newport features rich appointments, extra roominess. Upholstery and trim selections are available in colorful, durable and luxurious combinations of leather and nylon cord.

View of the new Chrysler "FirePower" engine. Conservatively rated at 180-horsepower, the new 8-cylinder powerplant is a 90-degree valve-in-head V-type engine.

Advanced styling inside and out, a new 180-horsepower FirePower engine and an improved Chrysler Spitfire engine head the list of 73 major improvements incorporated in the new 1951 Chrysler line.

Chrysler Division officials state that in no previous year has the division introduced so many major mechanical features, nor done more to increase the esthetic appeal of the Chrysler models.

Major developments in the new line include an Oriflow shock absorber, standard equipment throughout the line; Hydraguide hydraulic-mechanical power steering; and a Fluid-Torque Drive torque converter.

The power steering unit and torque converter are standard equipment on the Imperial 8-passenger sedan and limousine, and may be had as optional equipment on all other Imperial and New Yorker models.

The 1951 Chrysler is offered in twenty-one body styles in the Windsor, Windsor Deluxe, New Yorker and Imperial lines.

Styling Advances

In appearance, the 1951 line fully sustains the pace of the mechanical improvements. All models have been completely restyled, inside and out, and each model has its distinctive individual characteristics that make it readily distinguishable from all others in the line. Changes have been made in the direction of further streamlining and the enhancement of sleek, luxurious appearance.

Styling changes include a new wide sloping hood that helps to increase driver visibility; new front fenders; new curved bumpers and massive bumper guards; new front and rear ornamentation; new grilles that are distinctive for each model; new front and rear fender moldings; and a belt molding that now completely encircles the car.

The new wrap-around "Clear-back" window is now used on all models, increasing rear-window area by 20.7 square inches or 30 per cent as compared with 1950 models not having this feature.

Accent on Beauty

Length of the car is accentuated by the new front fender line, which extends further back in the front door panel. A distinctive turn signal and parking light combination is found on each model, and the span between the headlights has been increased 3.5 inches, better to outline the width of the car.

Interior styling includes improvements in upholstery and trim with an unusually wide choice of materials that are the most luxurious and tasteful that Chrysler has ever offered.
